PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

Mascot Properties, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated in the State of Nevada on July 22, 2009. Our principal business is the management of real estate properties, primarily related to student housing and services which include general property management and maintenance and activities coordination for residents. We are seeking to manage properties that are near universities that suffer from a lack of on-campus housing and growing enrollment.

Both large and small universities suffer from student housing overcrowding problems. For example, some of the largest universities in the country in terms of enrollment are located in Florida and can only guarantee on-campus accommodations for freshman while other students must enter a lottery or must seek off-campus housing. Other smaller universities in the State of Florida have experienced overcrowding problems and are forced to put incoming freshman in hotels. Our planned operations will include managing income producing residential real estate properties near fast growing universities that are incapable of accommodating all of their current and future students as enrollment continues to grow. We do not currently manage any properties, but we are currently seeking properties to manage. Our website which is currently live but remains under construction, is located at www.mascotproperties.com.

Our management is experienced in the real estate industry and has been involved in real estate development projects for over 7 years, including roles as developer and manager for multifamily developments, condominiums, and apartment buildings. Currently, we are reliant on the experience of our Founder, President and management, Mr. David Dreslin. Mr. Dreslin is a CPA with twenty six years of business experience, the past seven years of which he has been actively involved in numerous real estate projects as both principal and advisor. Additionally, Mr. Dreslin has been a licensed real estate sales associate since June of 2006. Mr. Dreslin was the managing member of 4 limited liability companies engaged in the acquisition and development of approximately $30,000,000 (as retail price) of single family homes, condominiums and multi-family housing. Mr. Dreslin was involved in all aspects of the acquisition and development of various properties, including floor plan design, implementing sales staff as well as providing expertise in cost analysis regarding development and selling price in order to maximize member value. The Company believes that Mr. Dreslin's experience will put the Company in a position to carry out its business plan while keeping its operating expenses low until such time as additional administrative staffing becomes necessary. The Company does intend to employ additional qualified employees or third-party vendors in the future, but only after it has secured contracts for the management of properties. Property management employees will be employed on a commission only basis and will typically be paid a management fee between 2% and 5% of the gross monthly receipts of the property depending on specific requirements of each property.

Management will be charged with reviewing and recommending suitable projects for the Company consistent with its policies and objectives to maximize the return on properties it manages. We intend to manage properties and lease them to students. We will operate the properties as the property manager, which includes, but is not limited to, collecting rent, advertising, showing and leasing units in the buildings, coordinating with service professionals for maintenance and repairs, arranging promotional events for marketing, and creating activities for the residents.

Management's goal is to work toward improving the properties' cash flow through proper marketing. We will find experienced property managers and make our properties student friendly with facility events, common areas for entertainment, activities and recreational facilities. The Company has not identified any specific properties to manage but, we are targeting properties with occupancy rates in excess of 96%.

We draw on the experience of our management to provide research and economic and statistical data in connection with the Company's activities. According to statistical research on college enrollment by the Chronicle of Higher Education, 18.6 million students were enrolled in college in 2010, up from 18.4 million in 2009. This rate is expected to grow steadily to 19.2 million by 2013, and 20 million by 2017. Additionally, according to the Chronicle of Higher Education, research has shown that student housing tends to rent at a premium compared with conventional apartment communities. For example, consider a four-bedroom apartment with four students paying $500 per month each. That $2,000 monthly rent may be as much as 30% higher than the apartment norm for a particular geographic area. Parents typically guarantee rents and pay higher security deposits to ensure safe housing with amenities that students can enjoy. According to a study by Community Development Studies Market Research in 2009, 75% of incoming freshman live on-campus, the occupancy levels on-campus are 99%, but only 20% of the total student population lives on-campus.

Thus, the Company's management plans to search for opportunities to manage real estate properties near rapidly growing universities and colleges that suffer from a lack of on-campus housing, and obtain for the Company such services as may be required for property management. These fast growing universities face increasing enrollment at a rate faster than new dormitories are being built. We intend to capitalize on the inability of universities to meet expanding housing demands by looking for distressed real estate near such universities and working with the owners of these properties to convert their properties into student housing. Universities that we have targeted include local colleges in the vicinity of our Company's base of operations in Seminole Florida. There are approximately 50 colleges and universities within a three hour drive of our principal offices.

We will continue to seek out opportunities to manage real estate properties and intend to enhance our capabilities by adding personnel or entering joint ventures with similar firms. Once we identify suitable real estate projects for property management, we will work with the owners of the properties and the residential housing office of the nearby university to create favorable living environments for students. Such property owners may include banks, investment funds, developers and individual owners; our management intends to utilize its contacts among these entities to facilitate such relationships. The Company plans to attract residents through marketing and advertising on-campus, web and social media and local radio and newspaper. We have no property management contracts at this time nor have we entered into any discussions with any such potential owners or to affiliate with any universities.

Our Operating Strategy

We seek opportunities to manage real estate properties where we believe we can achieve higher cash flows and capital appreciation for the owners as a result of our property management efforts and relations with universities' student residential housing offices. The Company currently has no official university relationships but has had some preliminary discussions with universities as part of our due diligence. However, the Company has one college within two miles of its office, ten colleges or universities within a 25 mile radius including a major state university with more than 46,600 students, and approximately 50 colleges and universities within a three hour drive of its office and will look to establish relationships with many of these universities. Our strategy for achieving our goals consists of the following elements:

- Focusing our efforts in markets with fast growing universities that we believe have favorable conditions to support growth in occupancy and rental rates for off-campus student housing, and
- Utilizing management's experience in property management and maintenance, as well as accounting and billing.

Our initial focus is on the southeastern and southwestern regions of the United States, particularly where we perceive there to be the potential to manage properties near fast growing universities whose enrollments exceed their capacity for on-campus housing. We believe we can enhance the value of these properties through the execution of our strategy which entails establishing a relationship with the local college or university, hiring a strong local property manager, aggressive marketing of the property, and adding amenities and security to the facility to cater to students' needs. We intend to have leases and services that cater to students and will have professional on-site management and maintenance. However, we will not limit our services to any particular individual geographic markets or submarkets. Moreover, we will not restrict our services to certain locations in markets or submarkets, as we may find value-adding opportunities in large metropolitan areas, suburban submarkets, smaller cities or rural locations, near both public and private universities.

According to the 2010 National Multifamily Report by the national real estate valuation firm Marcus & Millichap, the cap rate (the metric for determining property value based on income and cash flow) for student housing increased 50 basis points in 2009, while the average price rose 5%. According to the report, both measures outperformed those for traditional apartments.

Our Real Estate Management Criteria

We expect to manage properties within a three-mile radius of universities. These are multifamily units that cater to students and can accommodate student housing offices demand for more student housing near the university campus. We will attempt to identify those universities with enrollment growth opportunities and demand demographics that support potential long-term value appreciation for the owners of the properties. We seek to identify and manage properties with the following characteristics:

- Significant potential for increases in the number of students enrolled seeking housing near campuses, which drives student leases and the potential for increased rental rates;
- Locations in markets currently in transition or recovery with favorable long-term enrollment and supply/demand demographics, which may allow for increased occupancy or rental rates;
- Historic mismanagement or under-management;
- Under-valued compared with other properties within their market; and
- Barriers to additional or replacement projects.

Management of Properties

We plan to engage our own employees and third-party management companies as agents for on-site management of our properties depending on the geographic location. Generally such agreements will provide for a management fee between 2% and 5% of the gross monthly receipts of each property and are for a term of one year, but can be terminated by either party upon thirty days written notice. We currently have not entered into any discussions or contracts with any potential employees or third parties for on-site management of our properties. These properties typically require a greater level of management and oversight than traditional multifamily projects, which involves a manager with a focus on student housing. Typically, students often keep different hours and lead a different lifestyle than the general population or family oriented properties.

Thus, these properties require managers that are hands-on and sensitive to student needs and lifestyle.

Competition

We do not currently manage any properties and therefore the competition described below is a form of competition that may occur.

The real estate property management market is a highly competitive and highly fragmented industry. We will be competing with a number of, property managers, owners and operators of real estate, many of which will own or manage properties similar to ours in the same markets in which our properties will be located and some of which have greater financial resources than we do. Competing properties may be newer or have more desirable locations than our properties. If the market does not absorb foreclosed or newly constructed properties, market vacancies will increase and market rents may decline. In operating and managing properties, we will compete for tenants based on a number of factors, including location, rental rates, security, having amenities that meet prospective tenants' needs and the manner in which the property is operated, maintained and marketed. Potentially, as leases at properties we manage will expire, we may encounter significant competition to renew or re-let space in light of the large number of competing properties within the markets in which we operate. As a result, we may be required to provide rent concessions or abatements, incur charges for tenant improvements and other inducements, including early termination rights or below-market renewal options, or we may not be able to timely lease vacant space.

Current Operations

We have advanced our business plans through discussions with universities in the southeast and southwest United States to determine interest level in recommending off-campus housing to their expanding student population. The company's initial focus has been on identifying properties to manage near universities in the State of Florida, since this is within a close proximity to its principal office. The Florida multifamily residential property market has been hard hit by the recent economic downturn. According to the Florida Real Estate Forecast properties in this marketplace are selling at an average of 33% below 2007 property values. Foreclosed and bank repossessed real estate owned (REO) properties are at an even greater discount to the previous market highs. We are currently in discussions with banks and developers of distressed projects in this market proposing to manage the properties near universities to improve their cash flow. These negotiations are on-going and subject to the company securing management contracts under acceptable terms.

Employees

As of September 24, 2012, we have 1 full-time employee, and plan to employ additional qualified employees in the near future.

Employment Agreements

Effective April 1, 2011, the Company and Mr. Dreslin, our Chief Executive Officer, entered into a two (2) year employment agreement (the "Employment Agreement"). Mr. Dreslin shall not be entitled to any compensation, bonus payment or benefits until the Company has reached $300,000 in gross revenues (the "Revenue Milestone"). Upon the Company reaching the Revenue Milestone, Mr. Dreslin shall be entitled to an annual salary of $85,000 (the "Base Salary"). He is responsible for overseeing all operations of the Company including but not limited to evaluation of business opportunities, and the Company's substantive and financial reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, Upon the Company reaching the Revenue Milestone, Mr. Dreslin shall also be entitled to all reasonable and customary fringe benefits, including, but not limited to, medical, dental, disability and life insurance, vacation and sick leave. The Company will reimburse of all his reasonable and necessary travel, entertainment or other related expenses incurred by him in carrying out his duties and responsibilities under the agreement.

In the event that Mr. Dreslin's employment is terminated by the Company without cause including but not limited to an involuntary change in position or termination of Mr. Dreslin as a result of a material breach of this Agreement by the Company (any of the foregoing, an "Involuntary Termination"), Mr. Dreslin shall receive from the Company, through the effective date of the Involuntary Termination: (i) the Base Salary, including relevant cost of living adjustments; (ii) (a) compensation for all accrued, unexpired vacation time and (b) any applicable outstanding expense reimbursements; and (iii) an additional two weeks' pay of Mr. Dreslin's then current Base Salary.

Mr. Dreslin may elect, by written notice to the Company, to terminate his employment with continued pay through the Employment Agreement term if (i) the Company sells all of its assets, (ii) the Company merges with another business entity with a change in control, (iii) more than 50% of the outstanding stock is acquired by a third party, or (iv) the Company defaults in making payments required to Mr. Dreslin under this agreement. Plan of Operations

The following plan of operations provides information which management believes is relevant to an assessment and understanding of our results of operations and financial condition. The discussion should be read along with our financial statements and notes thereto.

We have commenced limited operations and we will require outside capital to implement our business plan. All business functions will be coordinated and managed by our founder, Mr. David Dreslin, including marketing, finance and operations. We intend to contract with outside professionals to facilitate services for the on-site management of properties and any real estate rehabilitation and maintenance services that may be required. These services include total property management responsibilities for the care and upkeep of the property. We will use independent contractors as leasing agents, as well as for janitorial services, lawn services and general maintenance services as required on-site from time to time. The Company has no outside contracts, but we intend to contract with these professionals under normal industry terms, which may include lease fees of 2% to 5%, depending on the nature of the services.

Milestones

We will focus on evaluating our performance based on the following milestones during the next twelve months of operations as the Company emerges from the development stage:

a. Number of new real estate projects

The Company is in preliminary discussions with property owners to contract properties for management. The Company hopes to have at least ten suitable properties under management over the next twelve months.

(i) The Company will initially look for distressed and under-managed projects in southwest Florida. The southwest Florida multi-family residential property market has been hard hit by the recent economic downturn. Properties in this marketplace are selling at an average of 33% below 2007 property values. Foreclosed and bank repossessed real estate owned properties are at an even greater discount to the previous market highs. We are currently in discussions with banks and developers of distressed condominium projects in this market and proposing to manage the properties to improve their cash flow. These negotiations are on-going and subject to the Company securing management contracts under acceptable terms.

(ii) The Company is in preliminary discussions with property owners to contract properties for management. The Company hopes to have at least ten suitable properties under management over the next twelve months. The Company deems suitable properties as rental properties in good condition, which should be within three miles of a college campus and have at least 100 rental units.

(iii) The Company incurs nominal travel expenses associated with the search for properties since the southwest Florida region is nearby its home office. The Company anticipates travel costs to be approximately $24,000 during the next twelve months. The Company also plans to incur $15,000 in marketing expenses associated with the development of promotional materials and attendance at trade shows during the next twelve months. Our founder and majority shareholder, Mr. David Dreslin, owns 77% of the Company and is the Company's president and primary employee. Mr. Dreslin has committed to cover any cash shortfalls of the Company with regards to the aforementioned expenses. However, to the extent the Company requires additional funds to carry out its business plan we may seek to raise additional capital.

While we have had preliminary discussions with property owners, we have not yet entered into any contracts or agreements to manage any properties. There can be no assurance that we will be able to contract suitable properties for management or be able to negotiate property management contracts on favorable terms with the property owners.

b. Expense management

The Company plans to maintain minimal operating expenses, not to exceed $49,000, over the next twelve months related to travel and marketing expenses.

(i) The Company has a limited operating budget and has maintained tight expense controls.

(ii) Over the next twelve months, the Company anticipates its minimum need for additional funding is $39,000 to implement its business plans. We anticipate operating expenses to be $24,000 prior to generating revenues. These expenses are estimated at $2,000 per month primarily travel related cost associated with the search for properties to manage in southwest Florida. The Company intends to contract at least ten suitable properties for management over the next twelve months. The Company will also incur $15,000 in marketing expenses associated with the development of promotional materials and attendance at trade shows. The Company will incur additional operating expenses once the Company generates revenues, which are tied to commissions paid to leasing agents and operating expenses associated with the upkeep of the properties.

The Company plans to hire on a commission-only basis at such time as the Company has signed property management contracts, so no additional expenses are created until revenues are generated. There can be no assurance that we will be able to align ourselves with professionals for services on a commission-only basis. Our founder and majority shareholder, Mr. David Dreslin has committed to cover any cash shortfalls of the Company with regards to the aforementioned expenses. However, to the extent the Company requires additional capital to carry out its business plan we may seek to raise additional capital.

c. Creating strategic alliance relationships

Establishing ten strategic alliance relationships over the next twelve months.

(i) The Company defines a strategic alliance as a new relationship with outside professionals to facilitate services for the on-site management of properties and real estate rehabilitation and maintenance services that may be required. These services include total property management responsibilities for the care and upkeep of the property. We will use independent contractors as leasing agents, as well as for janitorial services, lawn services and general maintenance services as required on-site from time to time. The cost of seeking out these relationships is factored into the total existing estimated travel expense and marketing expenses of $39,000. In no case should specific costs for establishing these relationships exceed $500 per month over the next twelve months. As discussed above, our founder and majority shareholder, Mr. David Dreslin, has committed to cover any cash shortfalls of the Company with regards to the aforementioned expenses. However, to the extent the Company requires additional capital to carry out its business plan we may seek to raise additional capital.

(ii) The Company has no contracts with outside vendors, but we intend to contract with these professionals under normal industry terms, which may include leasing fees in the 2% - 5% range depending on the nature of the services.

Our growth is driven by the number of new real estate projects that we evaluate and contract for management. There is no assurance we will be able to secure such management contracts for properties or be able to lease-out such properties on a profitable basis. Certain competitors may be willing to accept lower fees based on their overhead structure. As a result, we may have difficulty attracting new properties to manage and tenants to utilize the properties. There can also be no assurance that we will be able to align ourselves with professionals for services on a commission only basis.

d. Marketing campaign

Participation in four industry trade shows, launch website and create a social media marketing campaign.

(i) Our plan of operation includes launching a targeted marketing campaign focusing on property management and university housing trade show participation by attending four industry related trade shows, approximately one per quarter over the next twelve months. We also intend to launch our website and establish media and social media promotions and public relations over the next twelve months. This marketing is estimated to cost $15,000, in addition to our estimated minimum travel and operating expenses of $2,000 per month. Our founder and majority shareholder, Mr. David Dreslin, has committed to cover any cash shortfalls of the Company with regards to the aforementioned expenses. However, to the extent the Company requires additional funds to carry out its business plan we may seek to raise additional capital.

(ii) We intend to support our marketing efforts through the development of high-quality marketing materials and an attractive and informative website, www.MascotUniversityHousing.com, that is currently live but remains under construction. There can be no assurance we will be successful in implementing our marketing campaign or that we will be able to provide our services at lower costs than other property managers.

There can also be no assurance that we will be able to align ourselves with professionals for services on a commission-only basis. The development of an on-going marketing campaign will require the commitment of substantial resources. If additional capital is not available on acceptable terms, we may not be able to implement our business development plans or continue our business operations.

Over the next twelve months we believe that we will have identified at least ten suitable properties to manage and lease-out in order to begin to generate revenues from our targeted marketing approach. This refers to the minimum amount of time that we estimate will be required to generate revenues based on meetings with universities, banks and developers in the Florida property market. Once a property is identified we will need to negotiate a management contract with the property owner. Only after a property is identified and contracted can we begin managing the property for a fee from the property owners to generate revenues. Fees from property owners are generally between 10% and 15% of gross monthly rents. We have not entered into any contracts or agreements to manage any properties. There can be no assurance that we will be able to identify suitable properties for management or be able to negotiate property management contracts on favorable terms with the property owners.

Our future will depend on our ability to identify suitable properties to manage and our ability to bring our services to the market place, which requires careful planning of providing a service that meets our customer's standards without incurring unnecessary cost and expense. Our operational results can be affected by our ability to introduce our services or to adjust pricing to try to gain a competitive advantage. There can be no assurance we will be able to implement our property management services. If we are unable to satisfy our cash requirements we may be unable to proceed with our plan of operations.

Results of Operations.

For the year ended June 30, 2012, we had cash on hand of $81, and an accumulated deficit of $110,817. Comparatively, for the year ended June 30, 2011, we had cash on hand of $13, and an accumulated deficit of $84,757. The increase in the accumulated deficit is as a result of the continuing obligations as a reporting company.

For the year ended June 30, 2012, we had professional fees of $16,525 and general and administrative fees of $9,535, resulting in net loss of $26,060 for the year ended June 30, 2012.

For the year ended June 30, 2011, we had consulting fees related party of $1,000, professional fees of $16,510, and general and administrative fees of $3,744. As a result, we had net loss of $21,254 for the year ended June 30, 2011. The increase in the net loss between 2011 and 2012 is due to increased general and administrative expenses as a result of becoming a public company.

For the period from Inception (July 22, 2009) through June 30, 2012, we had consulting fees related party of $38,600, professional fees of $55,035, and general and administrative expenses of $17,182. As a result, we had net loss of $110,817 for the period from Inception (July 22, 2009) through June 30, 2012.

Critical Accounting Policies

The following accounting policies are considered critical by our management. These and other accounting policies require that estimates be made based on assumptions and judgment, which affect revenues, expenses, assets, liabilities and disclosure of contingencies in our financial statements. These estimates and assumptions are based on historical experience and on various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. However, actual results may differ from these estimates under different and/or future circumstances.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized in accordance with the criteria established in the accounting literature regarding recognition of revenues, specifically, FASB Accounting Standards Codification topic 605, Revenue Recognition . Revenues and related expenses from rendering property management services are recognized when services are completed and billed. In some situations, we may receive advance payments from our customers. The Company will defer revenue associated with these advance payments until it has completed the contracted services.

Property and Equipment

The Company does not own any property.

Recent Pronouncements

We have determined that all recently issued accounting standards will not have a material impact on our financial statements, or do not apply to our operations.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Mascot Properties, Inc.

(A Development Stage Company)

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Mascot Properties, Inc. (A Development Stage Company) as of June 30, 2012 and 2011, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit) and cash flows for the years ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, and from inception on July 22, 2009 through June 30, 2012. Mascot Properties, Inc.'s management is responsible for these financial statements. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Mascot Properties, Inc. (A Development Stage Company) as of June 30, 2012 and 2011, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit) and cash flows for the years ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, and from inception on July 22, 2009 through June 30, 2012, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company has no revenues, has negative working capital at June 30, 2012, has incurred recurring losses and recurring negative cash flow from operating activities, and has an accumulated deficit which raises substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern.

Management's plans concerning these matters are also described in Note 2. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Dividends

The Company has not adopted any policy regarding payment of dividends. No dividends have been paid during any of the periods shown.

Advertising Costs

The Company's policy regarding advertising is to expense advertising when incurred. Advertising expense for the year ended June 30, 2012, and June 30, 2011 was $-0- and $ -0-.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the Statement of Cash Flows, the Company considers all highly liquid instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents to the extent the funds are not being held for investment purposes. As at June 30, 2012, and June 30, 2011 the Company had no cash equivalents.

Basic (Loss) per Common Share

Basic (loss) per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net loss applicable to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares during the period. Diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing the Company's net income available to common shareholders by the diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year. The diluted weighted average number of shares outstanding

Income Taxes

The Company provides for income taxes under ASC 740 Accounting for Income Taxes . ASC 740 requires the use of an asset and liability approach in accounting for income taxes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities and the tax rates in effect when these differences are expected to reverse.

ASC 740 requires the reduction of deferred tax assets by a valuation allowance if, based on the weight of available evidence, it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized.

The provision for income taxes differs from the amounts which would be provided by applying the statutory federal income tax rate of 39% to net loss before provision for income taxes for the following reasons:

	For the Year Ending	For the Year Ending
	June 30, 2012	June 30, 2011
Net (Loss)	$ (26,060)	$ (21,254)
Income tax expense at statutory rate	(10,163)	(8,290)
Net deferred tax asset	10,163	8,290
Income tax expense per books	$ -)	$ -)

Net deferred tax assets consist of the following components as of:

	For the Year Ending June 30, 2012	For the Year Ending June 30, 2011
NOL carryover	$ 10,163)	$ 8,290)
Valuation allowance	(10,163)	(8,290)
Net deferred tax asset	$ -	$ -

The Company's net operating losses are schedule to expire between 2029 and 2032.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company continually monitors events and changes in circumstances that could indicate carrying amounts of long-lived assets may not be recoverable. When such events or changes in circumstances are present, the Company assesses the recoverability of long-lived assets by determining whether the carrying value of such assets will be recovered through undiscounted expected future cash flows. If the total of the future cash flows is less than the carrying amount of those assets, the Company recognizes an impairment loss based on the excess of the carrying amount over the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or the fair value less costs to sell.

Accounting Basis

The basis is accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The Company has adopted a June 30th year end.

Stock-based compensation.

As of June 30, 2012, and June 30, 2011 the Company has not issued any share-based payments.

The Company records stock-based compensation in accordance with ASC 718 using the fair value method. All transactions in which goods or services are the consideration received for the issuance of equity instruments are accounted for based on the fair value of the consideration received or the fair value of the equity instrument issued, whichever is more reliably measurable. Equity instruments issued to employees and the cost of the services received as consideration are measured and recognized based on the fair value of the equity instruments issued.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The company has evaluated all the recent accounting pronouncements and believes that none of them will have a material effect on the company's financial statements.

GOING CONCERN

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which implies that the Company will continue to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. During the year ended June 30, 2012, the Company recognized no sales revenue and incurred a net loss of $26,060. As of June 30, 2012, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $110,817. The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent upon the continued financial support from its shareholders, the ability to raise equity or debt financing, and the attainment of profitable operations from the Company's future business. Additionally the Company is actively seeking merger partners and strategic alliances in order to accelerate its growth in the industry. These factors raise substantial doubt regarding the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. These financial statements do not include any adjustments to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

ITEM 9. CHANGES IN AND DISAGREEMENTS WITH ACCOUNTANTS ON ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE

None

ITEM 9A. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Controls and Procedures.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures:

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act that are designed to insure that information required to be disclosed in the reports we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, or the persons performing similar functions, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Under the supervision and with the participation of our CEO and CFO, or the persons performing similar functions, our management has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this annual report. Based on that evaluation, our CEO and CFO, or the persons performing similar functions, concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of June 30, 2012.

Management's Annual Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting:

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Our internal control over financial reporting is the process designed by and under the supervision of our CEO and CFO, or the persons performing similar functions, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of our financial reporting and the preparation of our financial statements for external reporting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Management has evaluated the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting using the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission in Internal Control over Financial Reporting – Guidance for Smaller Public Companies.

Under the supervision and with the participation of our CEO and CFO, or the persons performing similar functions, our management has assessed the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2012, and concluded that it is effective.

This annual report does not include an attestation report of our registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by the registrant's registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission that permit the registrant to provide only management's report in this annual report.

Evaluation of Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting:

Under the supervision and with the participation of our CEO and CFO, or those persons performing similar functions, our management has evaluated changes in our internal controls over financial reporting that occurred during the fourth quarter of 2012. Based on that evaluation, our CEO and CFO, or those persons performing similar functions, did not identify any change in our internal control over financial reporting that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Important Considerations:

The effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and our internal control over financial reporting is subject to various inherent limitations, including cost limitations, judgments used in decision making, assumptions about the likelihood of future events, the soundness of our systems, the possibility of human error, and the risk of fraud. Moreover, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions and the risk that the degree of compliance with policies or procedures may deteriorate over time. Because of these limitations, there can be no assurance that any system of disclosure controls and procedures or internal control over financial reporting will be successful in preventing all errors or fraud or in making all material information known in a timely manner to the appropriate levels of management.

Our directors and officers are indemnified as provided by the Nevada corporate law and our Bylaws. We have agreed to indemnify each of our directors and certain officers against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933. Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to our directors, officers and controlling persons pursuant to the provisions described above, or otherwise, we have been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than our payment of expenses incurred or paid by our director, officer or controlling person in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, we will, unless in the opinion of our counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

expressed in the Securities Act, and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities is asserted by one of our directors, officers, or controlling persons in connection with the securities being registered, we will, unless in the opinion of our legal counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit the question of whether such indemnification is against public policy to a court of appropriate jurisdiction. We will then be governed by the court's decision.
