RECONCILIATION OF NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES TO GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

Edgar Filing: SABRE HOLDINGS CORP - Form 8-K

This Form 8-K and the Release contain financial measures and financial terms not calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (GAAP) in order to provide investors with an alternative method for assessing the Company s operating results in a manner that is focused on the Company s ongoing operations. The Company s management uses these non-GAAP measures for the same purpose. We believe that our investors should have access to, and we are obligated to provide, the same set of tools that we use in analyzing our results. These non-GAAP measures should be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, but should not be considered a substitute for or superior to GAAP results. The tables below present a reconciliation of our presented non-GAAP measures to their most directly comparable GAAP measures. The Company has also provided definitions below for the non-GAAP financial measures utilized in this Form 8-K and in the Release, together with an explanation of why management uses these measures and why management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures are useful to investors.

ADJUSTED EBITDA

The Company defines Adjusted EBITDA as net income (loss) from continuing operations before interest income and expense, income taxes, depreciation and amortization and other income (expense), net. In prior periods, the Company referred to Adjusted EBITDA as EBITDA. Because this measure includes other income (expense), net, the company now calls this measure Adjusted EBITDA. The Company s management uses Adjusted EBITDA as a supplemental measure in the evaluation of the Company s business. The Company s management believes that Adjusted EBITDA provides a meaningful measure of the Company s ability to meet its future debt service, capital expenditures and working capital requirements. Adjusted EBITDA is not a financial measure under GAAP. Accordingly, it should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for net income (loss), operating income (loss), cash flow provided by operating activities or other income or cash flow data prepared in accordance with GAAP. When evaluating Adjusted EBITDA, investors should consider, among other factors, (i) increasing or decreasing trends in Adjusted EBITDA, (ii) whether Adjusted EBITDA has remained at positive levels historically and (iii) how Adjusted EBITDA compares to levels of interest expense. The Company provides a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA to GAAP Net Earnings. Because Adjusted EBITDA excludes some, but not all, items that affect net income and may vary among companies, the Adjusted EBITDA presented by the Company may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. Although the Company believes that Adjusted EBITDA may provide additional information with respect to the Company s ability to meet its future debt service, capital expenditures and working capital requirements, the Company s functional or legal requirements may require us to utilize available funds for other purposes.

NET EARNINGS, EXCLUDING SPECIAL ITEMS (ADJUSTED NET EARNINGS)

This measure consists of GAAP Net Earnings for the quarter, less the special items itemized in the related reconciliation. Special items typically include stock compensation and amortization of intangible assets, less taxes and minority interests. Management of the Company uses this information in evaluating the results of the continuing operations of the Company and believes that this information provides investors with better insight into the period over period financial performance of the Company. The Company provides a reconciliation of Adjusted Net Earnings to GAAP Net Earnings.

DILUTED EARNINGS PER SHARE (EPS), EXCLUDING SPECIAL ITEMS AND ONE-TIME CHARGES AND GAINS

This non-GAAP financial measure is defined as the portion of the Company's GAAP Net Earnings assigned to each share of stock, excluding the special items and one-time charges and gains described by the Company as explained in the paragraph above. The Company's management uses this information in evaluating the results of the continuing operations of the Company and believes that this information provides investors with better insight into the period over period financial performance of the Company. The Company provides a reconciliation of Adjusted Net Earnings to GAAP Net Earnings and provides a diluted share count so that investors have full insight into how this measure is determined.

FREE CASH FLOW

The Company calculates free cash flow as the sum of net earnings and depreciation and amortization expense, less other income (expense), net, and additions to property and equipment. Management of the Company believes that free cash flow is a useful indicator in evaluating the overall financial performance of the Company and its ability to repay debt or make future investments. Free cash flow may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures of other companies, and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for net income, operating cash flow or any other financial measure prepared in accordance with GAAP. The Company provides a reconciliation of Free Cash Flow to GAAP Net Cash provided by (used in) operations.

REVENUE, EXCLUDING ANY SPECIAL ITEMS

This measure consists of the GAAP revenue, less any gains or losses itemized in the related reconciliation. Management of the Company believes that excluding certain unusual gains or losses in revenue is meaningful to investors because the revenue, as adjusted, provides a measure of the cash-generating nature of the Company's ongoing business (or, as applicable, the business of one of the Company's business segments) by removing any items that do not represent the ongoing costs or benefits of doing business. The Company's management uses this revenue measure for this same purpose. The Company provides a reconciliation of this measure to GAAP Revenue.

ADJUSTED OPERATING INCOME

This measure consists of GAAP Operating Income for the quarter, less the special items itemized in the related reconciliation. Management of the Company uses this information in evaluating the results of the continuing operations of the Company (or, as applicable, the results of the continuing operations of one of the Company's business segments) and believes that this information provides investors with better insight into the period over period financial performance of the Company. The Company provides a reconciliation of Adjusted Operating Income to GAAP Operating Income.

ADJUSTED DEPRECIATION AND AMORTIZATION

The Company calculates this measure as GAAP depreciation and amortization adjusted for intangibles amortization related to acquisition activity. This measure is provided because the Company's management uses this information in evaluating the results of the continuing operations of the Company and believes that this information provides investors with better insight into the period over period financial performance of the Company. The Company provides a reconciliation of this measure to GAAP depreciation and amortization.

ADJUSTED OPERATING EXPENSES

The Company calculates this measure as GAAP Operating Expenses adjusted for amortization of intangibles, stock compensation and transaction fees from merger and acquisition activity, as well as a reversal of a restructuring charge from a prior period. This measure is provided because the Company's management uses this information in evaluating the results of the operations of the Company and believes that this information provides investors with better insight into the period over period financial performance of the Company. The Company provides a reconciliation of Adjusted Operating Expenses to GAAP Operating Expenses.

ADJUSTED OPERATING MARGIN

This measure consists of GAAP Operating Margin for the quarter, less the special items itemized in the related reconciliation, divided by revenue. Management of the Company uses this information in evaluating the results of the continuing operations of the Company (or as applicable, the results of continuing operations of one of the Company's business segments) and believes that this information provides investors with better insight into the period over period financial performance of the Company. The Company provides a reconciliation of Adjusted Operating Margin to GAAP Operating Margin.
