EXPLANATORY NOTE - AMENDMENT

Meritor, Inc. (the “company” or “Meritor”) is filing this Form 10-K/A (Amendment No. 2) to include in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 28, 2014 (the “Annual Report”), pursuant to Rule 3-09 of Regulation S-X under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, financial statements and related notes of Master Sistemas Automotivos Ltda. (“MSA”), an unconsolidated joint venture incorporated in Brazil in which the company owns an interest. Meritor owns a 49% interest in MSA (directly).

Rule 3-09 of Regulation S-X provides that if a 50% or less owned person accounted for by the equity method meets the first or third condition of the significant subsidiary tests set forth in Rule 1-02(w), substituting 20% for 10%, separate financial statements for such 50% or less owned person shall be filed. Such statements are required to be audited only in the years in which such person met such test.

MSA met the significance test for Meritor's 2013 fiscal year. Therefore, Meritor is required to file audited financial statements as of and for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 (“2013”) and the company has included in this Amendment No. 2 on Form 10-K/A the required audited financial statements for the 2013 fiscal year. MSA did not meet such significance test for Meritor's fiscal years 2014 and 2012. Therefore, Meritor is only required to file unaudited financial statements as of and for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2014 (“2014”) and December 31, 2012 (“2012”) and the company has included in this Amendment No. 2 on Form 10-K/A the required unaudited financial statements for the 2014 and 2012 fiscal years.

Effective January 1, 2009, Brazil adopted International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”). The financial statements of MSA for 2014, 2013, and 2012 have been prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB. Reconciliations between IFRS as issued by the IASB and U.S. GAAP are not required pursuant to SEC Release numbers 33-8879 and 34-57026.

Item 15 is the only portion of the Annual Report being supplemented or amended by this Amendment No. 2 on Form 10-K/A. Additionally, in connection with the filing of this Amendment No. 2 on Form 10-K/A and pursuant to SEC rules, Meritor is including the consents of the independent auditors of MSA and currently dated certifications. This Amendment No. 2 on Form 10-K/A does not otherwise update any exhibits as originally filed, except for Exhibits 10-a-4, 10-a-5, 10-a-6, 10-b-2, 3-b-1, 3-b-2, 21-a, and 23-d, and does not otherwise reflect events occurring after the original filing date of the Annual Report. Accordingly, this Amendment No. 2 on Form 10-K/A should be read in conjunction with Meritor’s filings with the SEC subsequent to the filing of the Annual Report.

2. PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company’s Financial Statements for the years ended on December 31, 2014 (unaudited), 2013 and 2012 (unaudited) have been prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) issued by International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

The Company adopted all rules, revision of rules, and interpretations issued by IASB and that are applicable for the year ended on December 31, 2014.

The summary of the principal accounting policies adopted by the Company is detailed in note 3.

The financial statements were approved by the Company's executive committee and authorized for issue on April 30, 2015.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1. Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for assets.

3.2. Functional currency and presentation currency

The financial statements are presented in thousands of reais, which is the Company's functional currency. All financial information presented in thousands of reais was rounded to the closest value.

3.3. Critical accounting judgments and key estimates and assumptions

In the application of accounting policies, Management is required to make judgments, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered relevant. Significant assets and liabilities subject to these estimates and assumptions include the residual value and useful lives of property, plant and equipment, the allowance for doubtful debts, impairment of inventories, the realization of deferred taxes, and the provision for labor and social security risks. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. The effects of revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is reviewed. Actual results may differ from these estimates due to uncertainties inherent in such estimates.

3.4. Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized on an accrual basis.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue is reduced for estimated customer returns, rebates and other similar allowances.

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when all the following conditions are satisfied:

- the Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods;
- the Company retains neither continuing managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership nor effective control over the goods sold;
- the amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company;
- the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably; and

Specifically, revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when goods are delivered and legal title is passed.

3.5. Foreign currency

In preparing the Company's financial statements, transactions in currencies other than the Company's functional currency are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Exchange differences on monetary items are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

3.6. Current and non-current assets

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Include cash on hand and in banks and short-term investments redeemable in up to 90 days from the investment date. Short-term investments are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These investments are carried at cost plus yield accrued through the end of the reporting period, which approximates their fair values.

Short-term investments not immediately redeemable

The classification of short-term investments depends on the purpose for which the investment was acquired and these investments are adjusted to fair value. When applicable, the costs directly attributable to the acquisition of a financial asset are added to the amount originally recognized.

Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognized at the billed amount, including the related taxes and reduced to their present value at the end of the reporting period, when applicable.

Allowances for doubtful debts are recognized based on estimated irrecoverable amounts determined by reference to the Company's past default experience and an analysis of the debtor's current financial position.

¶Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Costs of inventories are determined under the weighted average cost method. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale.

The allowances for slow-moving or obsolete inventories are recognized when considered necessary by Management.

¶Investments in associates

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence and that does not qualify as a subsidiary or a joint venture. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

The profit or loss, assets, and liabilities of associates are included in the financial statements by the equity method of accounting. Under the equity method of accounting, investments in associates are initially recognized at cost and subsequently adjusted for purposes of recognition of the Company's share in profit or loss and other comprehensive income of an associate. When the Company's share of losses of an associate exceeds its interest in the associate (including any long-term investment which, in substance, is included in the Company's net investment in the associate), the Company discontinues recognizing its share of further losses. Further losses are recognized only to the extent that the Company has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

When the Company's subsidiary conducts a transaction with an associate, the resulting profits or losses are recognized only proportionately to the interests held in the associate not related to the Company.

As mentioned in note 17, on June 18, 2013 the Company reduced its capital by transferring the shares held in the capital of Suspensys Sistemas Automotivos Ltda. to the shareholders Randon S.A. Implementos e Participações and Meritor do Brasil Sistemas Automotivos Ltda.

¶Property, plant and equipment

Carried at cost of acquisition, formation or construction, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Properties in the course of construction are carried at cost. Cost includes professional fees and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalized in accordance with the Company's accounting policy (note 3.9). Such properties are classified to the appropriate categories of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

Land is not depreciated. For the other classes of property, plant and equipment, depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method at the rates mentioned in note 10, which take into consideration the estimated useful lives of assets. The estimated useful life and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of a property and equipment item is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in profit or loss.

¶Intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost, less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortization method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

An intangible asset is derecognized on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from use. Gain or loss arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, is recognized in profit or loss when the asset is derecognized.

3.7. Impairment of tangible and intangible assets

At the end of each reporting period (or earlier when the need is identified), the Company reviews the carrying amount of its tangible and intangible assets to determine where there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any. A cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, as long as the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years/periods. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

3.8. Discount to present value

Monetary assets and liabilities are discounted to present value when the effect is considered material in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole. The discount to present value is calculated based on an interest rate that reflects the timing and risk of each transaction.

Trade receivables are discounted to present value with a corresponding entry in sales revenue in the statements of income, and the difference between the present value of a transaction and the face value of the billing is considered as financial income and will be recognized based on the amortized cost and the effective long-term rate of the transaction.

The discount to present value of purchases is recorded in “trade payables” and “inventories”, and its realization has a corresponding entry in line item “finance expenses” over maturity date of trade payables.

3.9. Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets.

Income on investments earned on the short-term investment of funds of specific borrowings not yet spent on the qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

All other borrowing costs are recognized in profit or loss in the year in which they are incurred.

3.10. Retirement benefit plan

The Company is the sponsor of a defined contribution plan with minimum guaranteed benefits and the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each reporting period. Actuarial gains and losses are immediately recognized in equity (Other comprehensive income) according to the available option in paragraph 93A IAS 19 - Employee Benefits.

3.11. Financial instruments

(a) Classification and measurement

The classification depends on the purpose for which the financial assets and liabilities were acquired or contracted. The Company’s management classifies its financial assets and liabilities at the time of initial contracting.

Loans and receivables measured at amortized cost

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Loans and receivables (including trade receivables and cash and cash equivalents) are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment.

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost

Borrowings are initially recognized, upon receipt of funds, net of transaction costs. They are subsequently measured at amortized cost. The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument.

3.12. Provisions

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that the Company will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation.

Provisions for the expected cost of warranty obligations are recognized at the date of sale of the relevant products, at Management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the Company's obligation.

3.13. Tax incentive (FUNDOPEM)

Government grants are recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the Company will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Subsidized loans, directly or indirectly provided by the Government, obtained at interest rates lower than market, are treated as government grants, measured at the difference between the amounts raised and the fair value of the borrowing calculated using market interest rates.

3.14. Income tax and social contribution

Current taxes

The provision for income tax and social contribution is based on the taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit as reported in the statements of income because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The provision for income tax and social contribution is calculated based on rates prevailing at the end of the reporting period (15% plus a 10% surtax on taxable profit exceeding R$ 20 per month for Income Tax and 9% on taxable profit for Social Contribution on Profit).

Deferred taxes

Deferred taxes are recognized on temporary differences at the end of each annual reporting period between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences and deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred taxes for the period

Current and deferred taxes are recognized in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, current and deferred taxes are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

3.15. Standards, interpretations and amendments to existing standards not yet effective and which were not early adopted by the Company

Several standards, amendments to standards and IFRS interpretations issued by the IASB have not yet come into effect for the year ended December 31, 2014, as follows:

16. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The estimated fair values of the Company's financial assets and liabilities were determined based on available market information and appropriate valuation techniques. However, considerable judgment was required in interpreting market data to produce the fair value estimate. As a consequence, the following estimates do not necessarily indicate the amounts that could be realized in a current exchange market. The use of different market methodologies may have a material effect on the estimated fair values.

These instruments are managed by means of operating strategies aimed at liquidity, profitability and security. The control policy consists in ongoing monitoring of the contracted rates against the market rates. The Company does not make speculative investments in derivatives or any other risk assets.

Financial risk management

The Company is exposed to the following risks associated to the utilization of its financial instruments:

- i. credit risk
- ii. foreign exchange rate risk
- iii. interest rate risk
- iv. price risk
- v. liquidity risk

The Company, through the shareholder Randon, has a Currency Hedge Policy prepared by the Planning and Finance Committee and approved by the Executive Officers. The purpose of the policy is standardize the procedures of the group companies, define responsibilities and limits on transactions involving currency hedge, and reducing foreign exchange effects on inflows in foreign currency projected by the cash flow, without speculative purposes.

The basis used is the cash flow in foreign currency projected monthly for the following twelve months based on the Strategic Plan projections or the current expectation of each group company. If considered necessary, the instruments used are conservative and previously approved by the same committee. For the years ended December 31, 2014, 2013, and 2012, the Company did not enter into any transactions involving derivative financial instruments.

a. Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Company. The Company is exposed to credit risk in its operating activities, mainly in relation to trade receivables.

The Company's sales policies are contingent upon the credit policies defined by management and are intended to minimize problems arising from default of its customers. This objective is achieved by management through a strict selection of the customer portfolio considering the customer's ability to pay (credit analysis). The customer's credit quality is assessed based on an internal credit scoring system. Outstanding trade receivables are frequently monitored. The need to recognize a provision for impairment is analyzed at the end of each reporting period on an individual basis for the major customers. Additionally, for receivables with lower balances the provision is assessed on a collective basis.

Sales concentration:

In the year ended December 31, 2014, three customers individually accounted for more than 10% of sales, with shares of 33.55% (11.77% in 2013 and 5.06% in 2012), 19.06% (22.19% in 2013 and 22.21% 2012), 16.41% (15.99% in 2013 and 13.82% 2012), net revenues each equivalent to R$ 145 million (R$ 61 million in 2013 and R$ 19 million in 2012), R$ 82 million (R$ 115 million in 2013 and R$ 84 million in 2012) and R$ 71 million (R$ 83 million in 2013 and R$ 52 million in 2012). The first and the second amounts refer to related parties. Other Company sales in the domestic and foreign markets are widely spread and there is no sales concentration in a percentage above 10% for any other customer.

b. Foreign exchange risk

The Company's results are exposed to risks of fluctuations due to the effects of the exchange rate volatility on assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, mainly the US dollar, which closed 2014 with a positive fluctuation of 13.39% (positive fluctuation of 14.64% in 2013).

The Company is exposed to currency risk (foreign exchange risk) on sales, purchases and borrowings that are denominated in a currency other than the Company's functional currency, the Brazilian real.

The Company's net exposure to foreign exchange risk is as follows:
