Item 8.01. Other Events.

On December 13, 2013, Transgenomic, Inc. (OTCBB: TBIO), a global biotechnology company advancing personalized medicine in cardiology, oncology, and inherited diseases through diagnostic tests as well as clinical and research services (“Transgenomic”), announced that it has expanded its national contractual agreement with The Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association (“BCBSA”), which offers its Blue Plans affiliates access to competitive pricing for Transgenomic’s valuable molecular diagnostic tests and services. This agreement has a five-year term.

The expanded agreement with BCBSA facilitates streamlined reimbursement and provides patients affiliated with Blue Plans access to Transgenomic’s portfolio of medically important genetic tests. The tests provide treating physicians with actionable information that helps determine the best therapy for each individual, with the goal of improving patient outcomes.

The BCBSA is a national federation of 37 independent, community-based and locally operated Blue Cross® and Blue Shield® companies and is part of the nation’s oldest and largest family of health benefits companies. Blue Cross and Blue Shield companies provide healthcare coverage for nearly 100 million people in all 50 states.
