On September 30, 2014, Oak Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (“Oak”), a Delaware corporation and wholly-owned subsidiary of Akorn, Inc. (“Akorn” or “Company”), signed a definitive Product Acquisition Agreement (the “Purchase Agreement”) with Sunovion Pharmaceuticals Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Sunovion”) to acquire certain rights and inventory related to the branded product, Xopenex® (Levalbuterol HCl) Inhalation Solution (the “Product”). On October 1, 2014, Akorn completed its acquisition of the Product from Sunovion. The purchase consideration of $45 million was paid in cash at closing, net of certain liabilities for product return reserves, rebates, and chargeback reserves, assumed by Oak subject to a cap.

Pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, certain trademarks and patents related to the Product will be licensed to Oak by Sunovion. Further, in connection with closing the Purchase Agreement, Akorn and Sunovion entered into a customary transition services agreement. Additionally, the Company assumed a distribution agreement for authorized generic of the Product and assumed certain open purchase orders placed in ordinary course for active pharmaceutical ingredients.

The Purchase Agreement contains standard and customary representations and warranties, covenants and indemnities, including with respect to claims related to actions taken or events occurring prior to closing.

The foregoing description of the material terms of the Purchase Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Purchase Agreement, a copy of which is included as Exhibit 2.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference. The Purchase Agreement was filed to provide investors and security holders with information regarding the terms, provisions, conditions, and covenants of that agreement and is not intended to provide any other factual information respecting the acquired assets. In particular, the Purchase Agreement contains representations and warranties made to and solely for the benefit of the parties thereto, allocating among themselves various risks of the transactions. The assertions embodied in those representations and warranties are qualified or modified by information in disclosure schedules that the parties exchanged upon execution of the Purchase Agreement. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties may have changed after the date of the Purchase Agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in our public disclosures. Security holders are not third-party beneficiaries under the Purchase Agreement and should not rely on the representations, warranties and covenants or any descriptions thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts or condition of the acquired assets.
