ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS

General Motors Corporation (GM) renewed its 5- year facility on June 16, 2003. The facility provides GM with full access to a $5.6 billion line of credit with a syndicate of banks. The facility is committed through June 16, 2008.

Effective June 16, 2003, General Motors Acceptance Corporation (GMAC) renewed its syndicated credit facilities, including the liquidity facility for GMAC's asset-backed commercial paper conduit, NCAT. These facilities provide GMAC "back-up" liquidity and represent additional sources of funding. The following summarizes the modifications to the facilities, which are more fully described in GMAC's Annual Report on Form 10-K:

364-Day Facility - The GMAC facility was increased from $1.543 billion to $4.15 billion, expiring June 14, 2004. The facility continues to include a term loan option, which, if exercised by GMAC upon expiration, carries a one-year term. The facility also provides GMAC the discretionary option to transfer up to $2.9 billion of the $4.15 billion total commitment to the NCAT liquidity facility. The 364-day facility contains a leverage covenant that restricts the ratio of GMAC's consolidated debt to total stockholder's equity to no greater than 11:1. In connection with the renewal, the leverage covenant calculation was modified to exclude from debt those securitization transactions that are accounted for on-balance sheet.

5-Year Facility - The 5-year GMAC facility was decreased from $7.35 billion to $4.35 billion, and extended two years, expiring June 16, 2008. This facility is also subject to the aforementioned leverage covenant.

NCAT Liquidity Facility - GMAC is the administrator for New Center Asset Trust (NCAT), a non-consolidated asset-backed commercial paper conduit. The NCAT liquidity facility was increased from $18.107 billion to $19.25 billion, expiring June 14, 2004.
