KEY TRONIC CORPORATION RESPONDS TO CEMTREX RELEASE

Spokane Valley, WA - October 26, 2017 - On October 23, 2017, Key Tronic Corporation (Nasdaq: KTCC), a provider of electronic manufacturing services, became aware of a press release issued by Cemtrex, Inc. ("Issuer") on October 23, 2017 regarding an update to its purported exchange offer for the outstanding shares of common stock of Key Tronic. Key Tronic has not had any communication from Issuer detailing its purported offer, and Issuer has not commenced any formal exchange offer for Key Tronic common stock, which would require additional SEC filings by Issuer. Issuer's press release describes revisions to the purported exchange offer, which has been revised to be a potential exchange of one share of Key Tronic's common stock for one of Issuer's series 2 units to consist of (1) one $10 Issuer 4% debenture due 2024 (no additional details regarding this instrument have yet been provided) and (2) one-third share of Issuer common stock. Despite Issuer's statements that this is an increase in value over its earlier purported offer, Key Tronic continues to have extremely serious concerns about the accuracy of Issuer's statements provided in Issuer's public disclosures regarding the purported offer and its motives, as well as the legitimacy of the purported offer.

Key Tronic intends to focus on continuing to execute on our strategic plan. We believe that pursuing our growth opportunities and continuing to leverage our competitive strengths will be in the best long-term interests of our shareholders.

Important Information

The purported exchange offer for the outstanding common stock of Key Tronic referred to in this document has not commenced. This communication is not an offer to exchange or a solicitation of an offer to sell shares of Key Tronic's common stock. Any solicitation and offer to exchange shares of Key Tronic's common stock will only be made pursuant to an offer to exchange and related materials that Issuer may (but ultimately may not) file with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). At the time any exchange offer is commenced, Issuer will file a tender offer statement on Schedule TO with the SEC. Key Tronic will file a solicitation/recommendation statement on Schedule 14D-9 with respect to the exchange offer if it is commenced.

KEY TRONIC CORPORATION COMMENTS ON CEMTREX RELEASE

Spokane Valley, WA - September 15, 2017 - On September 13, 2017, Key Tronic Corporation (Nasdaq: KTCC), a provider of electronic manufacturing services, became aware of a press release issued by Cemtrex, Inc. ("Issuer") on September 13, 2017 regarding its purported exchange offer for the outstanding shares of common stock of Key Tronic. We strongly disagree with virtually all of the assertions made by Issuer in that press release, including its characterization of Key Tronic's financial performance and value relative to that of Issuer, for several reasons, among others:

- An actual exchange offer has not been made by Issuer pursuant to the preliminary materials filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

- If this offer were in fact made, the purported offer would give Key Tronic shareholders only one Cemtrex share (which had a closing price of $3.19 as of September 14, 2017) for one Key Tronic share (which had a closing price of $6.85 as of September 14, 2017). Key Tronic believes that there is no reason to assume that the public prices are not a significant market indicator of the relative values of the shares of the two companies. The exchange would have resulted in an immediate discount of approximately 53% per share to the price of Key Tronic's common stock based on the closing prices on September 14, 2017.

The financial comparisons that Issuer makes to Key Tronic are very misleading because, among other things, Issuer does not properly identify the periods it is comparing, appropriately consider the size and maturities of Key Tronic and the Issuer, or explain how ratios and percentages are calculated.

- Financial comparisons depend on reliable underlying auditor-reviewed financial information. Key Tronic is very skeptical of the accuracy of Issuer's reported financial information due in part to the fact that:

Issuer is not audited by a nationally recognized accounting firm.

One published media report has raised questions about Issuer's auditor, Bharat Parikh & Associates, headquartered in India. According to public records of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, Bharat Parikh & Associates audited a total of five public companies during the twelve months ending in March 2017, all of which were small public companies.

- The Issuer has not addressed how it would be able to pay off Key Tronic debt or address covenants contained in Key Tronic's loan agreements if Issuer were to consolidate or merge with Key Tronic.

- Key Tronic has never encountered Issuer in the electronic manufacturing services (EMS) market space, nor was Key Tronic aware of Issuer's existence before Issuer filed a registration statement regarding this purported offer.

Our initial research shows Issuer reports approximately $45 million of EMS revenue. In our opinion, this does not qualify Issuer to make any statements as to how it might operate an EMS business like Key Tronic which is over 10 times Issuer's current size in terms of revenue.

As we stated in a prior press release, Key Tronic was unaware of any purported interest in Key Tronic by Issuer and had not had any communication with Issuer or any of its affiliates relating to such interests prior to becoming aware of the Issuer's filings on September 5, 2017. Key Tronic has extremely serious concerns about the accuracy of Issuer's statements and its motives, as well as the legitimacy of the purported offer.

Key Tronic intends to focus on continuing to execute on our strategic plan. We believe that pursuing our growth opportunities and continuing to leverage our competitive strengths will be in the best long-term interests of our shareholders.

KEY TRONIC CORPORATION RESPONDS TO FILINGS MADE BY CEMTREX, INC.

Spokane Valley, WA - September 6, 2017 - On September 5, 2017, Key Tronic Corporation (Nasdaq:KTCC), a provider of electronic manufacturing services, became aware of filings made by Cemtrex, Inc. ("Filer") with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") on September 5, 2017, which stated that Filer intends to commence an exchange offer for the outstanding shares of common stock of Key Tronic. Prior to such filings, Key Tronic was unaware of Filer's purported interest in Key Tronic and had not had any communications with Filer or any of its affiliates relating to such interest.

The Filer's statements were set forth in a registration statement for shares of Filer's common stock, which describes a purported offer to exchange one share of Key Tronic's common stock for one share of Filer's common stock. At the close of business on September 6, 2017, the closing price for Key Tronic's common stock was $6.81 and the closing price for Filer's common stock was $3.15. Consequently, the purported offer would represent a discount of 53.7% per share to the price of Key Tronic's common stock as of the closing prices of September 6, 2017. Based on Filer's current SEC filings, Key Tronic understands that Filer has not commenced a formal exchange offer and that any such offer would require additional SEC filings by Filer.

Key Tronic remains optimistic about growth opportunities and our competitive strengths as discussed in our recent earnings release and conference call. We are continuing our business consistent with our existing strategic plan.
