TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS,

Convertible stocks and bonds are hybrid securities. Because they can be converted into common stock, performance will be impacted by the dominant trend in the equities market. However, due to their significantly higher yield, performance is also influenced by the direction of the bond market. 2001's strong bond market helped the Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund (the "Fund") post a respectable gain in what has been another disappointing year for equities investors.

A PROMISE KEPT

When we asked the shareholders of the Fund to vote to convert from an open-end investment company to a closed-end fund, we expressed our intent to have the Fund's common shares track the Fund's net asset value. Based on the Fund's consistent and above average annualized performance since inception, we expected that such a Fund would trade at or above net asset value. In addition, over the past few years the Board of Directors has taken several initiatives to maintain the Fund's public market price at a level equal to or exceeding the Fund's net asset value. These initiatives included a stock repurchase plan, a managed 8% Distribution Policy, and the issuance of preferred stock.

We are happy to report that the management kept its promise to shareholders and the Fund is trading at a premium to net asset value. In fact, the Fund began trading in January 2001 at a slight discount to net asset value and started trading at a premium in February 2001. The Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund has since continued to trade at a premium to net asset value and, as of year-end, the Fund's shares were trading at a 9.9% premium. We have been able to preserve shareholder wealth during a tough market environment. We have been conservative during the past year and it has paid off; now is the time to be aggressive.

PREMIUM / DISCOUNT DISCUSSION

As a refresher to our shareholders, the price of a closed-end mutual fund is determined in the open market by willing buyers and sellers. Shares of the Fund trade on the New York Stock Exchange and may trade at a premium to (higher than) net asset value ("NAV") (the market value of the Fund's underlying portfolio) or a discount to (lower than) net asset value. Of the 470 closed-end funds in the U.S., approximately 30% currently trade at premiums to NAV versus 24% five years ago and 18% ten years ago.

Ideally, the Fund's market price will generally track the NAV. The Fund's premium or discount to NAV fluctuates over time. Over our Fund's 6-year history as a closed-end fund, the range fluctuated from a 12% premium in September 2001 to a 17% discount in April 2000. The average variance from NAV for the Fund since converting to closed-end fund status is an 8% discount to NAV. Beginning in early 2001, the market price of the Fund exceeded the NAV and this premium has increased throughout the year.

"Mr. Market" often provides opportunities to invest at a discount. The Fund has undertaken various initiatives to narrow the discount when appropriate through distribution policies, share repurchase programs and use of leverage.

The Fund's long-term investment goal is to seek a high-level of total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation. We believe that our securities selection process adds to the investment equation. We have a successful history of investment providing shareholders average annual returns of 9% since inception. However, it is important to remember that "Mr. Market" is a pendulum that swings both ways. As the market moves away from momentum investing and back to basics, we believe that an excessive premium for the Fund is not likely to be sustainable.

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE

For the fourth quarter ended December 31, 2001, The Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund's (the "Fund") net asset value ("NAV") total return rose 3.06% after adjusting for the reinvestment of the $0.21 per share distribution paid on December 24, 2001. The Standard & Poor's ("S&P") 500 Index and the Lipper Convertible Securities Fund Average rose 10.68% and 8.98%, respectively, over the same period. The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged indicator of stock market performance, while the Lipper Average reflects the average performance of mutual funds classified in this particular category. The Fund rose 7.03% for 2001 after adjusting for the reinvestment of the $0.81 per share in distributions. The S&P 500 Index and Lipper Convertible Securities Fund Average declined 11.89% and 7.86%, respectively, over the same twelve-month period.

For the three-year period ended December 31, 2001, the Fund's total return averaged 5.41% annually, including reinvestments of $3.14 per share in distributions. The S&P 500 Index had an average annual decline of 1.03% while the Lipper Convertible Securities Fund Average had an average annual return of 6.69%, over the same three-year period. For the five-year period ended December 31, 2001, the Fund's total return averaged 7.56% annually, including reinvestments of $5.02 per share in distributions, versus average annual total returns of 10.70% and 8.38% for the S&P 500 Index and Lipper Convertible Securities Fund Average, respectively.

Since inception on July 3, 1989 through December 31, 2001, the Fund had a cumulative total return of 190.52%, including adjustments of $11.776 per share for distributions, which equates to an average annual total return of 8.90%.

The Fund's common shares ended the fourth quarter at $10.90 per share on the New York Stock Exchange, a premium to the net asset value of 9.99% and a total return of 1.00% for the fourth quarter. The Fund's common shares rose 29.14% for 2001 after adjusting for all distributions.

OUR OBJECTIVE

Our mandate is to preserve and enhance our shareholders' wealth through a conservative and disciplined approach to convertible securities investing. Our goal is to generate profitable returns in strong markets and protect principal in weak markets by taking advantage of the unique characteristics of convertible securities.

Our Fund is managed with a goal of achieving a 600-800 basis point spread above long-term Treasury yields. We hope to generate these returns over the long-term. This is the type of performance that our Fund has been recognized for and we anticipate will continue in the future. Of course, there are no guarantees.

CONVERTIBLE SECURITIES ARE "HYBRIDS"

It is important to understand our stock selection discipline because price movement in the underlying equity will generally have the greatest impact on convertible securities pricing. The convertible securities market consists of bonds, debentures, corporate notes, preferred stocks and warrants or other similar securities which may be converted into or exchanged for a prescribed amount of common stock or other equity security of the same or a different issuer within a particular period of time at a specified price or formula. Converts are "hybrid" securities that combine the capital appreciation potential of equities with the higher yield of fixed income instruments. Our strategy incorporates the purchase of convertible securities that are trading at a premium above parity with the common stock but which generally provide a higher yield and, over time, capital appreciation. We will also seek out "busted" converts, where the underlying common stock has dropped significantly and the values of both the conversion privilege and the convert are down. Such securities will provide both high yields and long-term capital appreciation potential.

CONVERTIBLE MARKET OVERVIEW

The convertible market, as measured by the Merrill Lynch All Convertible Index, gained 7.0% during the fourth quarter reflecting the rebound in the equity markets. This compared to a 10.7% rise in the S&P 500 Index. During 2001, convertibles demonstrated their defensive qualities by declining only 4.4% versus a fall of 11.9% by the S&P 500 Index. The average convertible now has a conversion premium of 56% (up from 37% at the start of the year), a current yield of 3.76% (versus 4.5%) and a credit rating of BBB- (versus BB+). Ironically, current yield has fallen even as the conversion premium has risen because of the rapid rise of zero-coupon contingent conversion convertibles. These issues are typically investment grade, which explains why the average credit quality of the market has also improved. Zeros now make up 31% of the domestic convertible market versus 23% at the beginning of the year. However, as investors seek higher yields in the current low interest rate environment and issuers need to repair their balance sheets, we expect to see an increase of mandatory and preferred issuance in the year ahead.

During the quarter, equity prices recovered, credit spreads tightened and Treasury prices fell. This trend was also reflected in the convertible market. Speculative grade convertibles outperformed investment grade convertibles gaining 10.0% (versus 3.6%) as credit spreads tightened by over 200 basis points in the single-B credit range.

Despite negative price performance during the year, a buoyant new issue calendar resulted in a 41% increase in the domestic convertible market to $218 billion. The U.S. convertible market is the largest in the world constituting 45% of the total global market capitalization of $475 billion. Domestic new issuance was up a record 74% last year to $105 billion. Numerous companies used the product to finance their growth, utilize attractive tax benefits, or repair their balance sheets. Meanwhile, redemptions were 38% lower at $36 billion. Redemptions are expected to accelerate over the next twelve-months as many zeros approach their put dates.

The best performing sectors in the convertible market during the fourth quarter were Technology (+15.4%), Media (+11.9%), and Consumer Discretionary (+9.4%). After the Enron debacle, Utilities were the worst performing (-13.2%) followed by Telecommunications (-1.3%) and Energy (+3.0%). During the year, the best performing sectors were Materials (+27.3%), led by the precious metals group, Consumer Discretionary (+18.1%), and Consumer Staples (+15.4%). The worst performing sectors were Utilities (-38.2%), Telecommunications (-18.8%), and Energy (-11.5%). Interestingly, "busted" or high-yielding convertibles were the year's stellar performers. Constituting 46% of the convertible universe, these securities gained 5.3% in the fourth quarter and 10.0% for the year outperforming even High Grade (+8.4%) and High Yield (+5.5%) straight bonds.

COMMENTARY

AMERICAN HEROES

In the months following September 11, we have been celebrating American heroes. New York City firefighters, policemen, and emergency service workers have been honored for their bravery and sacrifice. Political leaders such as New York City Mayor Rudy Guiliani, President Bush, Secretary of State Colin Powell, and Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld have been applauded for their adept handling of this crisis. We praise American servicemen who have been risking their lives in Afghanistan to hunt down and capture the terrorists responsible for the tragedy.

To this list of heroes, we would add the American consumer, who through their collective courage and confidence in the American system, have helped avert what might have become an economic catastrophe. So, let's hear it for everyone who despite all the political and economic uncertainty resulting from horrifying terrorist attacks, went out and bought a new home, or a car, or took their families on vacation, or simply treated their loved ones to a good

Christmas. These courageous folks are the reason the American economy has held up so well during these trying times and the people who will lead our economy out of recession in the year ahead.

AND THEIR ALLIES

The American consumer has had two important allies. The Federal Reserve Board responded promptly and effectively to the terrorist crisis by injecting a massive dose of liquidity into the financial system and lowering short-term interest rates to levels we haven't seen in forty years. The U.S. Treasury Department announced it would cease issuing 30-year bonds, in the process, bringing longer-term interest rates down and accelerating the home re-financing boom that has provided much of the money consumers have been spending. We also acknowledge the leadership of General Motors, which initiated a brilliant and timely 0% APR financing to "Keep America Rolling." As we prepare this letter, we have to give a demerit to the U.S Congress, which is letting partisan politics get in the way of a second fiscal booster shot, particularly one aimed at bolstering confidence among business leaders.

A NEW BULL MARKET?

Despite the economy's surprising resilience and the stock market's strong fourth quarter, many investors remain wary as evidenced by the record $2.3 trillion parked in money market funds yielding about 2%. What will it take to bring more investors off the sidelines? An official end to the recession and better corporate earnings. We believe both are right around the corner.

Economic data released on December 31 revealed widespread improvement in consumer confidence and housing, and even a modest increase in business investment. Growth in unemployment insurance claims also slowed. These are all valid indications the economy is beginning to regain its footing. At issue is just how strong the economic recovery will be. Although inventories have been reduced significantly and there has been a modest up-tick in sales, there is still a great deal of excess capacity in the manufacturing sector. This will likely restrain growth in business investment, forcing the American consumer to continue to shoulder much of the economic load. We believe Gross Domestic Product ("GDP") will be up 3% to 4% in 2002, well above the longer-term growth of 2.5% to 3% we envision. The cut in taxes along with lower oil and fuel will help consumer spending overcome the drag from the stock market's wealth effect and rising unemployment.

Fortunately, we will not need an especially strong recovery to see significantly better corporate earnings in 2002. Companies in virtually every industry have been aggressively cutting costs. With the exception of pockets in the technology and telecommunications equipment industries, the inventory correction has largely run its course. Corporate interest expense has declined, as have raw materials and energy prices. Corporate America wrote off everything it could get away with in 2001 (we call this the "kitchen sink" effect), and due to Federal Accounting Standard Board (FASB) Rule 142, the "amortization of goodwill" will no longer penalize earnings. Consequently, a modest economic recovery in the year ahead should be magnified in sharply higher reported earnings. Very "easy" earnings comparisons in the first and second quarters of 2002 should help stabilize the market until investors gain confidence that earnings will improve in the second half. In addition, the crisis in confidence arising from "Enron" will result in auditing firms and CFO's cleaning up their numbers (we observe that aggressive accounting will be back - but not in 2002).

THINGS THAT GO BUMP IN THE NIGHT

Our reasonably upbeat outlook for the economy and the stock market is tempered by our usual laundry list of things to worry about. First and foremost is the potential for another catastrophic terrorist episode (in the U.S. or abroad) that could severely damage consumer and investor psychology.

Second on our list of concerns are oil and natural gas prices. Declining energy prices have translated into lower gasoline, home heating, and utilities costs for the consumer who we are counting on to lead us out of recession. The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries ("OPEC") is currently cutting production and urging other energy producing nations to follow suit. Whether OPEC will succeed in convincing cash strapped producers such as Russia to turn down the tap is debatable. However, the potential for further political upheaval in the Middle East leading to the disruption of oil flow to the developed world is certainly a risk. We hope we get our long needed energy policy.

Another issue we worry about is the economic health of the rest of the world. The economies of our Latin American trade partners are imperiled by declining commodity prices and in some cases, fiscal and monetary mismanagement. Japan has fallen back into recession and European economic growth has slowed substantially. This is a truly global economy, in which the economic health of any one nation, including the mighty U.S. of A, is to a significant degree dependent on the economic health of the rest of the world. Along these lines, we remain puzzled by the enormous appetites of countries, companies and citizens around the world to hold on to the U.S. dollar despite our history of huge trade deficits.

OUR INVESTMENT SCORECARD

This year's best performing holdings came from a variety of industry groups including: drug retailer Rite Aid; broadcaster Granite Broadcasting; auto parts maker Standard Motor Products; and telecommunications services company Sprint Corp.

Our worst performers also came from an eclectic group of sectors including: wireless communications operators Nextel and U.S. Cellular; banana king Chiquita Brands; utility Northeast Utilities; and railcar leaser GATX.

LET'S TALK CONVERTS

The following are specifics on selected holdings of our Fund. Favorable earnings prospects do not necessarily translate into higher prices, but they do express a positive trend that we believe will develop over time.

BROADWING INC. (6.75% CV. PFD., SER. B) located in Cincinnati, OH, received its new name in 1999 when local phone provider Cincinnati Bell made a $3.2 billion acquisition of IXC Communications and gained access to a nation-wide all optical fiber network. Broadwing's Cincinnati-based operations include one million local phone lines and about 480,000 wireless customers through its 80% ownership of a wireless joint venture with AT&T Wireless Services (AWE - $14.38 - NYSE). Broadwing also offers long distance voice and broadband data services to other carriers and enterprise accounts on a nation-wide basis. Broadwing's incumbent local exchange carrier's ("ILEC") operations are surrounded by SBC Communications (SBC - $39.17 - NYSE)/Ameritech's local footprint.

CITIZENS COMMUNICATIONS CO. (5.00% CV. PFD.) will soon become the country's largest independent local exchange carrier with about 3 million access lines once it completes several acquisitions of over 2 million lines for $6.5 billion. Upon completion of these transactions, accompanied by divestitures of its utilities operations, the company will reposition itself as a pure telecommunications company. Citizens also owns 81% of a competitive carrier, Electric Lightwave Inc. (ELIX - $0.30 - Nasdaq), with fiber optic networks covering the Western part of the U.S.

Hilton's casino gaming properties were spun-off into a new company, Park Place Entertainment (PPE - $9.17 - NYSE), on December 31, 1998.

KAMAN CORP. (SUB. DEB. CV., 6.00%, 03/15/12), founded in 1945, is a pioneer in the helicopter industry. Aircraft manufacturing remains the core of the business. Kaman serves both commercial and governmental markets with helicopters and aircraft components. The company also produces specialized, high-value niche market products and services that tend to be technological leaders in their markets. Kaman is a major, national distributor of original equipment, repair and replacement products and value-added services to nearly every sector of North American industry. The company also manufactures and distributes musical instruments (Ovation guitars) and accessories to independent retailers.

NEXTEL COMMUNICATIONS INC. (SUB. DEB. CV., 5.25%, 01/15/10) is the last remaining independent national wireless carrier in US, servicing over 8 million mostly high-value business subscribers and controlling wireless licenses covering over 235 million people. Nextel International, a wholly-owned international subsidiary of Nextel, serves about 900,000 wireless customers in Latin America and has licenses covering over 230 million people in Brazil, Argentina, Mexico, Peru and Chile. Nextel's investment portfolio is currently valued at over $1.0 billion.

ROBBINS & MYERS INC. (SUB. DEB. CV., 6.50%, 09/01/03) is an international manufacturer of industrial mixing equipment, glass-lined vessels, industrial pumps and corrosion resistant products serving the process industries such as specialty chemicals, pharmaceuticals, water treatment, oil and gas, and food and beverage. In August 2001, the company completed the acquisition of Romaco, a $150 million manufacturer of packaging, printing and processing of pharmaceutical products. Romaco provides horizontal integration to Robbins' mixer and vessel businesses and the acquisition is expected to be accretive to earnings. With Romaco, 40% of Robbins & Myers revenues are in the pharmaceutical market that is generally stable, with an average 6-8% rate of growth. The company's remaining businesses are in specialty chemical (26%), energy (20%), water and wastewater (4%) and other industries. Management's use of its strong cash flow to make complementary acquisitions makes Robbins & Myers an attractive company in a consolidating industry.

SEALED AIR CORP. ($2.00 CV. PFD., SER. A) is a global manufacturer and distributor of a wide range of protective and specialty packaging materials and systems for industrial, food and consumer products. Sealed Air is a strong free cash flow generator, which will be used to pay down debt, make niche acquisitions, and buy back stock.

SEQUA CORP. ($5.00 CV. PFD.) is a diversified company with businesses in aerospace, pre-paint metal, specialty chemical and printing and cannery equipment. Chromalloy Gas Turbine, Sequa's aerospace business, is the largest independent supplier of overhaul and repair to jet and industrial gas turbine engines. We believe this business is attractive to original equipment engine manufacturers like General Electric and Pratt & Whitney who are looking to grow their replacement parts business. With roughly $800 million in revenues, we estimate Chromalloy's private market value to be near the entire public value of Sequa.

STANDARD MOTOR PRODUCTS INC. (SMP) (SUB. DEB. CV., 6.75%, 07/15/09), headquartered in Long Island City, New York, supplies functional replacement parts for the engine management, electrical and climate control systems of cars, trucks and buses. The company services all makes and models, both new and old cars, imported and domestic. SMP has two primary divisions--engine management and temperature control--and believes it is the number one supplier to the North American aftermarket in each of these lines.

THERMO ELECTRON CORP. (SUB. DEB. CV., 4.25%, 01/01/03) is a leading provider of scientific instruments. It manufactures measurement instrumentation, and provides information management software and worldwide services to markets which include: the life sciences, clinical laboratories, healthcare, telecommunications, food and beverage, chemical, oil and gas, and academic and government clients. The company's products ensure the quality and safety of materials used in manufacturing, improve industrial processes, and protect the environment--its instruments were also used at the Winter Olympics to identify the use of banned substances and to search for explosive materials. As part of its strategy to become an integrated instrument business, it is spinning off non-core businesses, most of which has been completed.

IN CONCLUSION

2001 has been a year most would like to forget. For the first time since Pearl Harbor, America has been attacked and suffered substantial casualties. We have been forced into what will be a long and costly war against terrorism. Many Americans lost their jobs as the overheated economy came to an abrupt standstill. Yet, we have survived and both the resilient economy and rebounding stock market are pointing to a better year ahead. We wish all our shareholders a Happy New Year, with growing confidence that 2002 will be just that.

Sincerely,

/S/MARIO J. GABELLI

THE GABELLI CONVERTIBLE SECURITIES FUND, INC. NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. ORGANIZATION. The Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") is a closed-end diversified management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), whose investment objective is to seek a high level of total return through a combination of current income and capital appreciation by investing in convertible securities. The Fund was incorporated in Maryland on December 19, 1988 as an open-end diversified management investment company and commenced investment operations on July 3, 1989. The Board of Directors, upon approval at a special meeting of shareholders held on February 17, 1995, voted to approve the conversion of the Fund to closed-end status, effective March 31, 1995.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES. The preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements.

SECURITY VALUATION. Portfolio securities listed or traded on a nationally recognized securities exchange, quoted by the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotations, Inc. ("Nasdaq") or traded on foreign exchanges are valued at the last sale price on that exchange as of the close of business on the day the securities are being valued (if there were no sales that day, the security is valued at the average of the closing bid and asked prices or, if there were no asked prices quoted on that day, then the security is valued at the closing bid price on that day except for open short positions, which are valued at the last asked price). All other portfolio securities for which over-the-counter market quotations are readily available are valued at the latest average of the bid and asked prices. If there were no asked prices quoted on that day, then the security is valued at the closing bid price. Portfolio securities traded on more than one national securities exchange or market are valued according to the broadest and most representative market, as determined by Gabelli Funds, LLC (the "Adviser"). Portfolio securities primarily traded on foreign markets are generally valued at the preceding closing values of such securities on their respective exchanges. Securities and assets for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at their fair value as determined in good faith under procedures established by and under the general supervision of the Board of Directors. Short term debt securities with remaining maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, unless the Board of Directors determines such does not reflect the securities' fair value, in which case these securities will be valued at their fair value as determined by the Board of Directors. Debt instruments having a maturity greater than 60 days are valued at the highest bid price obtained from a dealer maintaining an active market in those securities. Options are valued at the last sale price on the exchange on which they are listed. If no sales of such options have taken place that day, they will be valued at the mean between their closing bid and asked prices.

REPURCHASE AGREEMENTS. The Fund may enter into repurchase agreements with primary government securities dealers recognized by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, with member banks of the Federal Reserve System or with other brokers or dealers that meet credit guidelines established by the Adviser and reviewed by the Board of Directors. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the Fund takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the Fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the Fund's holding period. The Fund will always receive and maintain securities as collateral whose market value, including accrued interest, will be at least equal to 100% of the dollar amount invested by the Fund in each agreement. The Fund will make payment for such securities only upon physical delivery or upon evidence of book entry transfer of the collateral to the account of the custodian. To the extent that any repurchase transaction exceeds one business day, the value of the collateral is marked-to-market on a daily basis to maintain the adequacy of the collateral. If the seller defaults and the value of the collateral declines or if bankruptcy proceedings are commenced with respect to the seller of the security, realization of the collateral by the Fund may be delayed or limited.

FUTURES CONTRACTS. The Fund may engage in futures contracts for the purpose of hedging against changes in the value of its portfolio securities and in the value of securities it intends to purchase. Such investments will only be made if they are economically appropriate to the reduction of risks involved in the management of the Fund's investments. Upon entering into a futures contract, the Fund is required to deposit with the broker an amount of cash or cash equivalents equal to a certain percentage of the contract amount. This is known as the "initial margin." Subsequent payments ("variation margin") are made or received by the Fund each day, depending on the daily fluctuation of the value of the contract. The daily changes in the contract are included in unrealized appreciation/depreciation on investments and futures contracts. The Fund recognizes a realized gain or loss when the contract is closed. At December 31, 2001, there were no open futures contracts.

There are several risks in connection with the use of futures contracts as a hedging device. The change in value of futures contracts primarily corresponds with the value of their underlying instruments, which may not correlate with the change in value of the hedged investments. In addition, there is the risk that the Fund may not be able to enter into a closing transaction because of an illiquid secondary market.

FORWARD FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTRACTS. The Fund may engage in forward foreign exchange contracts for hedging a specific transaction with respect to either the currency in which the transaction is denominated or another currency as deemed appropriate by the Adviser. Forward foreign exchange contracts are valued at the forward rate and are marked-to-market daily. The change in market value is included in unrealized appreciation/depreciation on investments and foreign currency transactions. When the contract is closed, the Fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed.

The use of forward foreign exchange contracts does not eliminate fluctuations in the underlying prices of the Fund's portfolio securities, but it does establish a rate of exchange that can be achieved in the future. Although forward foreign exchange contracts limit the risk of loss due to a decline in the value of the hedged currency, they also limit any potential gain/(loss) that might result should the value of the currency increase. In addition, the Fund could be exposed to risks if the counterparties to the contracts are unable to meet the terms of their contracts. At December 31, 2001, the Fund held no forward foreign exchange contracts.

SECURITIES SOLD SHORT. A short sale involves selling a security which the Fund does not own. The proceeds received for short sales are recorded as liabilities and the Fund records an unrealized gain or loss to the extent of the difference between the proceeds received and the value of the open short position on the day of determination. The Fund records a realized gain or loss when the short position is closed out. By entering into a short sale, the Fund bears the market risk of an unfavorable change in the price of the security sold short. Dividends on short sales are recorded as an expense by the Fund on the ex-dividend date and interest expense is recorded on the accrual basis.

FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION. The books and records of the Fund are maintained in United States (U.S.) dollars. Foreign currencies, investments and other assets and liabilities are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the period, and purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses are translated at the exchange rate prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. Unrealized gains and losses, which result from changes in foreign exchange rates and/or changes in market prices of securities, have been included in unrealized appreciation/depreciation on investments and foreign currency transactions. Net realized foreign currency gains and losses resulting from changes in exchange rates include foreign currency gains and losses between trade date and settlement date on investment securities transactions, foreign currency transactions and the difference between the amounts of interest and dividends recorded on the books of the Fund and the amounts actually received. The portion of foreign currency gains and losses related to fluctuation in exchange rates between the initial trade date and subsequent sale trade date is included in realized gain/(loss) on investments.

SECURITIES TRANSACTIONS AND INVESTMENT INCOME. Securities transactions are accounted for as of the trade date with realized gain or loss on investments determined by using the identified cost method. Interest income (including amortization of premium and accretion of discount) is recorded as earned. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date.

DIVIDENDS AND DISTRIBUTIONS TO SHAREHOLDERS. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Income distributions and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These differences are primarily due to differing treatments of income and gains on various investment securities held by the Fund, timing differences and differing characterization of distributions made by the Fund. Distributions to shareholders of the Fund's 8.00% Cumulative Preferred Stock ("Cumulative Preferred Stock") are accrued on a daily basis and are determined as described in Note 5.

For the year ended December 31, 2001, reclassifications were made to increase accumulated undistributed net investment income for $8,132 and decrease distributions in excess of net realized gain on investments, securities sold short and foreign currency transactions for $6,178 with an offsetting adjustment to additional paid-in capital.

THE GABELLI CONVERTIBLE SECURITIES FUND, INC.

For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2001, the tax character of distributions paid on a tax basis does not materially differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

PROVISION FOR INCOME TAXES. The Fund intends to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. As a result, a Federal income tax provision is not required.

As of December 31, 2001, the components of accumulated earnings/(losses) on a tax basis were as follows:

Undistributed ordinary income
(inclusive of short term capital gains)	$	59,400
Net unrealized depreciation		(3,774,069)

Total accumulated losses	$	(3,714,669)

Differences between amounts reported on a tax basis and those reported on a GAAP basis are primarily due to timing of recognition of capital gains on investments held by the Fund.

3. AGREEMENTS AND TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES. The Fund has entered into an investment advisory agreement (the "Advisory Agreement") with the Adviser which provides that the Fund will pay the Adviser a fee, computed daily and paid monthly, equal on an annual basis to 1.00% of the value of the Fund's average daily net assets. In accordance with the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser provides a continuous investment program for the Fund's portfolio and oversees the administration of all aspects of the Fund's business and affairs. The Adviser has agreed to reduce the management fee on the incremental assets attributable to the Cumulative Preferred Stock if the total return of the net asset value of the common shares of the Fund, including distributions and advisory fee subject to reduction, does not exceed the stated dividend rate of the Cumulative Preferred Stock. For the year ended December 31, 2001, the Fund's total return on the net asset value of the common shares did not exceed the stated dividend rate of the Cumulative Preferred Stock. Thus, such management fees were not earned on the incremental assets.

During the year ended December 31, 2001, Gabelli & Company, Inc. and its affiliates received $34,251 in brokerage commissions as a result of executing agency transactions in portfolio securities on behalf of the Fund.

4. PORTFOLIO SECURITIES. Costs of purchases and proceeds from sales of securities, other than short-term securities, for the year ended December 31, 2001 aggregated $56,274,660 and $38,546,176, respectively.

5. CAPITAL. The Articles of Incorporation, dated December 19, 1988, permit the Fund to issue 100,000,000 shares of common stock (par value $0.001).

Transactions in common stock were as follows:

	YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2001		YE DECEM
	Shares	Amount	Shares
Shares issued upon reinvestment of dividends and distributions	286,972	$2,952,833	----
Net decrease from repurchase of common shares	----	----	(124,900)
	-----	-----	-----
Net increase	286,972	$2,952,833	(124,900)

The Adviser has been authorized to repurchase on behalf of the Fund up to 500,000 shares of Common Stock of the Fund in the open market, whenever the shares are trading at a discount of 10% or more from the net asset value of the shares. For the year ended December 31, 2001, the Fund did not repurchase any shares of Common Stock. All shares of Common Stock repurchased have been retired.

In addition, the Fund has been authorized to issue up to 2,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock of which 1,200,000 shares has been designated as $0.001 par value 8% Cumulative Preferred Stock. Dividends on shares of the Cumulative Preferred Stock are cumulative. The Fund is required to meet certain asset coverage tests with respect to the Cumulative Preferred Stock as required by the 1940 Act and by the Shares' Articles Supplementary. If the Fund fails to meet these requirements and does not correct such failure, the Fund may be required to redeem, in part or in full, the Cumulative Preferred Stock at a redemption price of $25.00 per share plus an amount equal to the accumulated and unpaid dividends whether or not declared on such shares in order to meet these requirements. Additionally, failure to meet the foregoing asset requirement could restrict the Fund's ability to pay dividends to Common Shareholders and could lead to sales of portfolio securities at inopportune times. The Preferred Stock is callable at the redemption price at the option of the Fund after May 15, 2002. This Cumulative Preferred Stock introduced leverage into the capital structure of the Fund. This leverage tends to magnify both the risks and opportunities to Common Shareholders. At December 31, 2001, the 1,200,000 shares of 8% Cumulative Preferred Stock outstanding accrued dividends in the amount of $40,000. The income received on the Fund's assets may vary in a manner unrelated to the fixed rate, which could have either a beneficial or detrimental impact on net investment income and gains available to Common Shareholders.

The Fund shall not declare dividends or make other distributions on 1,200,000 shares of Common Stock or purchase any such shares if at the time of the declaration, distribution or purchase, asset coverage with respect to the outstanding Preferred Stock would be less than 200%.

The holders of Cumulative Preferred Stock have voting rights equivalent to those of the holders of Common Stock (one vote per share) and will vote together with holders of shares of Common Stock as a single class. In addition, the 1940 Act requires that along with approval of the holders of a majority of the holders of Common Stock, approval of a majority of the holders of any outstanding shares of Cumulative Preferred Stock, voting separately as a class, would be required to (a) adopt any plan of reorganization that would adversely affect the Cumulative Preferred Stock, and (b) take any action requiring a vote of security holders, including, among other things, changes in the Fund's subclassification as a closed-end investment company or changes in its fundamental investment restrictions.

A Form 1099-DIV has been mailed to all shareholders of record for the distributions mentioned above, setting forth specific amounts to be included in the 2001 tax returns. Ordinary income distributions include net investment income and realized net short-term capital gains. 43.042% of the long-term capital gains paid by the Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund in 2001 was classified as "20% Rate Gains" subject to a maximum tax rate of 20% (or 10% depending on an individual's tax bracket). Capital gain distributions are reported in box 2a of Form 1099-DIV. 56.958% of the long-term capital gains paid by the Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund in 2001 was classified as "Qualified 5-Year Gains" and reported in box 2c of Form 1099-DIV.

RETURN OF CAPITAL

The amount received as a non-taxable (return of capital) distribution should be applied to reduce the tax cost of shares. There was no return of capital in 2001.

CORPORATE DIVIDENDS RECEIVED DEDUCTION AND U.S. TREASURY SECURITIES INCOME

The Fund paid to common and preferred shareholders ordinary income dividends of $0.5450 and $1.3276 per share, respectively, in 2001. For 2001, 18.77% of the ordinary income dividend qualifies for the dividend received deduction available to corporations. The percentage of ordinary income dividends paid by the Fund during 2001 derived from U.S. Treasury Securities was 25.73%. However, it should be noted that the Convertible Securities Fund did not hold more than 50% of its assets in U.S. Treasury Securities at the end of each calendar quarter during 2001.

AUTOMATIC DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT AND VOLUNTARY CASH PURCHASE PLAN

ENROLLMENT IN THE PLAN

It is the policy of The Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund, Inc. ("Convertible Securities Fund") to automatically reinvest dividends. As a "registered" shareholder you automatically become a participant in the Convertible Securities Fund's Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the "Plan"). The Plan authorizes the Convertible Securities Fund to issue shares to participants upon an income dividend or a capital gains distribution regardless of whether the shares are trading at a discount or a premium to net asset value. All distributions to shareholders whose shares are registered in their own names will be automatically reinvested pursuant to the Plan in additional shares of the Convertible Securities Fund. Plan participants may send their stock certificates to EquiServe Trust Company ("EquiServe") to be held in their dividend reinvestment account. Registered shareholders wishing to receive their distribution in cash must submit this request in writing to:

The Gabelli Convertible Securities Fund, Inc.
c/o EquiServe
P.O. Box 43011
Providence, RI 02940-3011

Shareholders requesting this cash election must include the shareholder's name and address as they appear on the share certificate. Shareholders with additional questions regarding the Plan or requesting a copy of the terms of the Plan may contact EquiServe at 1 (800) 336-6983.

SHAREHOLDERS WISHING TO LIQUIDATE REINVESTED SHARES held at EquiServe must do so in writing or by telephone. Please submit your request to the above mentioned address or telephone number. Include in your request your name, address and account number. The cost to liquidate shares is $2.50 per transaction as well as the brokerage commission incurred. Brokerage charges are expected to be less than the usual brokerage charge for such transactions. If your shares are held in the name of a broker, bank or nominee, you should contact such institution.

If such institution is not participating in the Plan, your account will be credited with a cash dividend. In order to participate in the Plan through such institution, it may be necessary for you to have your shares taken out of "street name" and re-registered in your own name. Once registered in your own name your dividends will be automatically reinvested. Certain brokers participate in the Plan. Shareholders holding shares in "street name" at participating institutions will have dividends automatically reinvested. Shareholders wishing a cash dividend at such institution must contact their broker to make this change.

The number of shares of Common Stock distributed to participants in the Plan in lieu of cash dividends is determined in the following manner. Under the Plan, whenever the market price of the Convertible Securities Fund's Common Stock is equal to or exceeds net asset value at the time shares are valued for purposes of determining the number of shares equivalent to the cash dividends or capital gains distribution, participants are issued shares of Common Stock valued at the greater of (i) the net asset value as most recently determined or (ii) 95% of the then current market price of the Convertible Securities Fund's Common Stock. The valuation date is the dividend or distribution payment date or, if that date is not a New York Stock Exchange trading day, the next trading day. If the net asset value of the Common Stock at the time of valuation exceeds the market price of the Common Stock, participants will receive shares from the Convertible Securities Fund valued at market price. If the Convertible Securities Fund should declare a dividend or capital gains distribution payable only in cash, EquiServe will buy Common Stock in the open market, or on the New York Stock Exchange or elsewhere, for the participants' accounts, except that EquiServe will endeavor to terminate purchases in the open market and cause the Convertible Securities Fund to issue shares at net asset value if, following the commencement of such purchases, the market value of the Common Stock exceeds the then current net asset value.

The automatic reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions will not relieve participants of any income tax which may be payable on such distributions. A participant in the Plan will be treated for Federal income tax purposes as having received, on a dividend payment date, a dividend or distribution in an amount equal to the cash the participant could have received instead of shares.

The Convertible Securities Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan as applied to any voluntary cash payments made and any dividend or distribution paid subsequent to written notice of the change sent to the members of the Plan at least 90 days before the record date for such dividend or distribution. The Plan also may be amended or terminated by State Street on at least 90 days' written notice to participants in the Plan.

VOLUNTARY CASH PURCHASE PLAN

The Voluntary Cash Purchase Plan is yet another vehicle for our shareholders to increase their investment in the Convertible Securities Fund. In order to participate in the Voluntary Cash Purchase Plan, shareholders must have their shares registered in their own name.

Participants in the Voluntary Cash Purchase Plan have the option of making additional cash payments to EquiServe for investments in the Convertible Securities Fund shares at the then current market price. Shareholders may send an amount from $250 to $10,000. EquiServe will use these funds to purchase shares in the open market on or about the 1st and 15th of each month. EquiServe will charge each shareholder who participates $0.75, plus a pro rata share of the brokerage commissions. Brokerage charges for such purchases are expected to be less than the usual brokerage charge for such transactions. It is suggested that any voluntary cash payments be sent to EquiServe, P.O. Box 43011, Providence, RI 02940-3011 such that EquiServe receives such payments approximately 10 days before the investment date. Funds not received at least five days before the investment date shall be held for investment until the next purchase date. A payment may be withdrawn without charge if notice is received by EquiServe at least 48 hours before such payment is to be invested.

For more information regarding the Dividend Reinvestment Plan and Voluntary Cash Purchase Plan, brochures are available by calling (914) 921-5070 or by writing directly to the Convertible Securities Fund.

The Annual Meeting of the Convertible Securities Fund, Inc.'s stockholders will be held at 8:30 A.M. on Monday, May 20, 2002, at The Bruce Museum, One Museum Drive, in Greenwich, Connecticut.
