CVRD makes payment to holders of mandatorily convertible notes

Rio de Janeiro, October 18, 2007 Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (CVRD) will pay additional interest to holders of the mandatorily convertible notes (notes) due June 15, 2010 issued by its wholly-owned subsidiary, Vale Capital Ltd., in two series, RIO and RIO P.

Under the indentures governing the notes, additional interest due to each noteholder is an amount in U.S. dollars equal to any cash distribution net of any applicable withholding tax and fees paid by the Depositary of our ADSs each representing one common/preferred CVRD share, RIO/RIOPR to the holder of one ADS, multiplied by the number of ADSs that would be received by the noteholder upon conversion of the notes at the conversion rate specified in the applicable indenture (as adjusted for the forward-stock split approved in August 2007). Therefore, the approval by our Board of Directors of a dividend distribution to shareholders, as announced today, triggered the payment of additional interest to noteholders.

The additional interest paid per series RIO note and per series RIO P note will be equal to an amount in U.S. dollars equivalent to R$ 0.659381778 and R$ 0.782596840, respectively, converted at the actual Brazilian real/US dollar exchange rate on October 31, 2007.

The additional interest will be paid to noteholders listed on the records of the trustee as of October 23, 2007 (regular record date). The Bank of New York, the trustee, will pay the noteholders on November 7, 2007.

This press release may contain statements that express management's expectations about future events or results rather than historical facts. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements, and CVRD cannot give assurance that such statements will prove correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors: relating to the Brazilian and Canadian economy and securities markets, which exhibit volatility and can be adversely affected by developments in other countries; relating to the iron ore and nickel business and its dependence on the global steel industry, which is cyclical in nature; and relating to the highly competitive industries in which CVRD operates. For additional information on factors that could cause CVRD's actual results to differ from expectations reflected in forward-looking statements, please see CVRD's reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
