Item 8.01. Other Events.

On March 9, 2006, Allergan, Inc. ( Allergan ) issued a press release announcing the settlement of a patent infringement lawsuit with Alcon, Inc. ( Alcon ) in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware contending that Alcon s proposed brimonidine 0.15% product infringes two brimonidine-related patents owned by Allergan. Allergan and Alcon entered into the settlement on March 6, 2006. Pursuant to the settlement: (i) Alcon agreed to a license in the United States, beginning on September 30, 2009, under both patents at issue in the Delaware lawsuit; (ii) Alcon will not sell, offer for sale or distribute its brimonidine 0.15% product until September 30, 2009, or earlier if certain market conditions occur, the primary condition being a trigger based generally on the extent to which prescriptions of Allergan s Alphagan® P (brimonidine tartrate ophthalmic solution) 0.15% have been converted to other brimonidine-containing products (including Allergan s Alphagan® P (brimonidine tartrate ophthalmic solution) .1% and Combigan ); and (iii) upon market entry of Alcon s 0.15% brimonidine product, Alcon will pay Allergan royalties on the sale of its product in the United States.

The press release is filed herewith as Exhibit 99.1 and incorporated herein by reference.
