ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS AND REGULATION FD DISCLOSURE

As disclosed in the Form 8-K filed by Metatec International, Inc. (the "Company") on December 3, 2001 (the "Prior Form 8-K"), the Company and The Huntington National Bank and Bank One, NA (collectively, the "Banks") entered into a standstill agreement and an amendment to the loan agreement dated as of November 20, 2001 (the "Standstill Agreement"), pursuant to which, among other things, the Banks agreed to forebear commencing any legal proceedings against the Company or exercising their rights and remedies under the amended and restated loan agreement between the Company and the Banks dated as of March 31, 2001 (the "Loan Agreement"), through the period ending on and including December 14, 2001. On December 31, 2001, the Banks and the Company entered into an amendment to the Standstill Agreement (the "First Amendment to Standstill Agreement") pursuant to which, among other things, the Banks agreed to forebear commencing any legal proceedings against the Company or exercising their rights and remedies under the Loan Agreement through the period ending on and including February 8, 2002.

In addition, as disclosed in the Prior Form 8-K, the Company and Banc One Leasing Company ("BOLC") entered into a forbearance agreement dated as of November 21, 2001 (the "Forebearance Agreement"), pursuant to which, among other things, BOLC agreed to forebear exercising its rights and remedies under an equipment lease agreement between the Company and BOLC through the period ending on and including December 14, 2001. On December 31, 2001, BOLC and the Company entered into an amendment to the Forebearance Agreement pursuant to which, among other things, BOLC agreed to forebear exercising its rights and remedies under the equipment lease agreement through the period ending on and including February 8, 2002.

On February 9, 2002, all principal and accrued interest under the credit facilities provided by the Loan Agreement, or approximately $18,000,000, will be immediately due and payable to the Banks, and the Banks will have the right to commence legal proceedings against the Company and exercise its rights and remedies under the Loan Agreement, unless the standstill period under the First Amendment to Standstill Agreement is extended by agreement of the Banks. Likewise, on February 9, 2002, BOLC will have the right to exercise its rights and remedies under the equipment lease agreement, unless the forbearance period is extended by agreement of BOLC.

There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to reach an agreement with the Banks on an extension of the Banks' standstill period. Likewise, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to reach an agreement with BOLC on an extension of BOLC's forbearance period. The Company's liquidity and its ability to meet its current financial obligations as they become due will be dependent upon the Company's ability to extend such standstill and forbearance periods. The Company's failure to reach agreement with the Banks as to an extension of the Banks' standstill period will have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial position and continuing operations.
