Item 8.01. Other Events.

Anthracite Capital, Inc. (the "Company" or "Anthracite") reported the following results on May 10, 2005:

Edgar Filing: ANTHRACITE CAPITAL INC - Form 8-K

The Company today reported net income available to common stockholders for the first quarter of 2005 of $0.27 per share versus net income to common stockholders of $0.20 per share for the same three-month period in 2004.

Based on the $0.28 per share dividend declared on March 10, 2005, and the May 9, 2005 closing price of $11.25, Anthracite's annualized dividend yield is 10.0%. All dollar amounts discussed herein are in thousands, except per share amounts.

First Quarter Financial Results

Total interest income from commercial real estate assets rose 29% from the quarter ended March 31, 2004; in contrast, total interest income from residential mortgage-backed securities ("RMBS") declined 57% from the same period. The Company's $346,230 RMBS portfolio at March 31, 2005 represented 10% of the Company's portfolio assets. This portfolio is expected to remain between 10% and 15% of the Company's total portfolio assets. The portfolio consists entirely of hybrid adjustable rate mortgages and adjustable rate securities.

The Company's weighted average cost of funds increased slightly to 5.22% at March 31, 2005 from 5.09% at December 31, 2004. For the three months ended March 31, 2005, hedging expenses not related to collateralized debt obligations ("CDOs") were $2,300 ($0.04 per share), a decrease from $4,631 ($0.09 per share) for the quarter ended March 31, 2004 and $2,829 ($0.05 per share) for the quarter ended December 31, 2004. The decrease in hedging expense is primarily attributable to the removal of interest rate swaps due to the issuance of fixed rate liabilities for CDO III in the first quarter of 2004 and CDO HY1 in the fourth quarter of 2004. The Company's estimated exposure at March 31, 2005 to a 50 basis point move in short-term interest rates decreased slightly to $0.012 per share annually from $0.018 per share annually at December 31, 2004.

The Company's debt to capital ratio decreased from 6.2:1 at December 31, 2004 to 6.0:1 at March 31, 2005, and the recourse debt to capital ratio decreased slightly from 1.8:1 to 1.6:1 over the same period.

The net interest margin of 3.2% for the first quarter of 2005 increased slightly from 3.1% for the fourth quarter of 2004.

Commercial Real Estate Credit Risk

The Company's primary focus is to invest in a diverse portfolio of commercial real estate loans and CMBS. The majority of these investments take the form of CMBS that are collateralized by pools of underlying mortgage loans. The cash flows the Company receives from its CMBS portfolio are dependent upon the credit performance of the underlying mortgage loans. The Company assumes a certain amount of losses will occur in the underlying mortgage loan pools and calculates interest income net of these assumed losses. The Company's objective is to maximize the spread between the loss-adjusted income and the cost of financing. Credit performance and the cost of financing the Company's portfolio are the most important factors affecting investment returns.

Controlling Class CMBS Investments

The Company considers CMBS securities where it maintains the right to control the foreclosure/workout process on the underlying loans as controlling class CMBS ("Controlling Class CMBS"). The Company owns 16 Controlling Class CMBS transactions as of March 31, 2005. However, the non-rated tranches of ten of the 16 transactions are included in CDO HY1. The unrealized gain on Controlling Class CMBS at March 31, 2005 was $20,761, as compared to an unrealized gain of $16,881 at December 31, 2004. The increase in the unrealized gain is primarily attributable to tighter CMBS credit spreads during the quarter.

Edgar Filing: ANTHRACITE CAPITAL INC - Form 8-K

Delinquencies of 30 days or more as a percent of current loan balances were 1.28% at the end of the first quarter of 2005, compared with 1.01% at the end of the fourth quarter of 2004. With the disposition of seven loans during the first quarter of 2005, the weighted average loss severity experienced for the 1998 and 1999 Controlling Class securities decreased from 30.9% at December 31, 2004 to 25.7% at March 31, 2005. No losses have been realized for those Controlling Class securities with vintages from 2001 through 2004 and the Company does not own any 2000 vintage Controlling Class securities.

The average cost of financing the commercial real estate securities portfolio during the first quarter of 2005 was 5.3%, compared to 5.1% for the first quarter of 2004.
