Wall Street Journal Article Published on November 18, 2013

On Monday, November 18, 2013, the Wall Street Journal published an article in response to RCM's announcement earlier that day that it was terminating its stockholder rights plan. The article, as published online, included the following quote from RCM's Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer, Leon Kopyt, which was taken from RCM's press release issued earlier that day: When the RCM Board adopted the rights plan earlier this year following the Legion Group's announcement of its proxy contest against RCM, we were very clear that this was a limited-purpose, limited-duration rights plan.

The full text of Mr. Kopyt's quote, as contained in the press release that RCM issued early in the day on November 18, 2013 is as follows:

When the RCM Board adopted the rights plan earlier this year following the Legion Group's announcement of its proxy contest against RCM, we were very clear that this was a limited-purpose, limited-duration rights plan, said Leon Kopyt, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer. In approving the early termination of the rights plan, as with our actions earlier this year in declassifying our board, adopting majority voting in the election of directors, adopting stock ownership guidelines and appointing a lead independent director, we continue to demonstrate our willingness to be receptive to stockholder input, particularly around corporate governance enhancements that have the potential to improve the functionality of our Board and make it more accountable to stockholders.

As previously announced, Legion Partners Asset Management, LLC and the other members of its dissident stockholder group (collectively, the Legion Group) are pursuing a proxy contest to elect two nominees to the RCM Board at the 2013 Annual Meeting to be held on Thursday, December 5, 2013, at 6:00 p.m., local time, at the offices of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The RCM Board strongly urges stockholders to vote the WHITE proxy card provided by RCM and reject the nominees presented by the Legion Group.
