Cameco To Redeem Preferred Securities

Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, October 25, 2004

Cameco Corporation announced today that it plans to redeem its 8.75% preferred securities that have been trading on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol CCJPR. The $125 million (US) of preferred securities due in 2047 were issued under a trust indenture between Cameco and JP Morgan Chase Bank dated October 14, 1998.

Cameco will redeem in full the preferred securities on December 17, 2004 and the securities will no longer trade on the stock exchange. Principal of $25 (US) per unit plus accrued and unpaid interest will be paid on that date. A notice of redemption will be issued according to the terms of the indenture. Cameco plans to use short-term debt to fund the redemption.

In the fourth quarter of 2004, Cameco will recognize the unamortized portion of the preferred securities issue costs in earnings, resulting in a charge of $4 million (CDN) to net earnings.

Cameco, with its head office in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, is the world's largest uranium producer. The company's uranium products are used to generate electricity in nuclear energy plants around the world, providing one of the cleanest sources of energy available today. Cameco's shares trade on the Toronto and New York stock exchanges.

Statements contained in this news release which are not historical facts are forward-looking statements that involve risks, uncertainties and other factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause such differences, without limiting the generality of the following, include: volatility and sensitivity to market prices for uranium, electricity in Ontario and gold; the impact of the sales volume of uranium, conversion services, electricity generated and gold; competition; the impact of change in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates; imprecision in reserve estimates; environmental and safety risks including increased regulatory burdens; unexpected geological or hydrological conditions; political risks arising from operating in certain developing countries; a possible deterioration in political support for nuclear energy; changes in government regulations and policies, including trade laws and policies; demand for nuclear power; replacement of production and failure to obtain necessary permits and approvals from government authorities; legislative and regulatory initiatives regarding deregulation, regulation or restructuring of the electric utility industry in Ontario; Ontario electricity rate regulations; weather and other natural phenomena; ability to maintain and further improve positive labour relations; operating performance of the facilities; success of planned development projects; and other development and operating risks.
