Item 1.01

Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

As previously announced, Rowan Companies plc (“Rowan”) and the Saudi Arabian Oil Company (“Saudi Aramco”), through their subsidiaries, have entered into agreements to create a 50/50 joint venture (the “Joint Venture”) to own, manage and operate offshore drilling units in Saudi Arabia, which agreements included a shareholders’ agreement and asset transfer and contribution agreements.

On October 17, 2017, Rowan and Saudi Aramco amended the asset transfer and contribution agreements to, among other things, modify and clarify the mechanics associated with the formation of the Joint Venture to provide for: (1) equal cash contributions to the Joint Venture by each of Rowan and Saudi Aramco, (2) the subsequent sale of the initial rigs and related assets to the Joint Venture by each party in exchange for cash (each, an “Asset Sale”), and (3) the distribution by the Joint Venture of excess cash in the amount of approximately $88 million to each party maintaining each party’s 50% ownership interest in the Joint Venture following the Asset Sales. The underlying economics of the Joint Venture to Rowan have not changed in any material respect from previously disclosure as a result of the amendments to the asset transfer and contribution agreements, nor have Rowan’s ongoing obligations under the joint venture agreements changed in any material respect as a result of the amendments to the asset transfer and contribution agreements. As previously disclosed, each party holds equal equity ownership in the Joint Venture as of the closing.
