THE FIRST TRANCHE OF DEBT-TO-EQUITY CONVERSION OF LOANS TO LG CARD CO., LTD.

Pursuant to the current terms and schedule of the rescue plan for LG Card Co., Ltd., substantially all of the creditor banks and financial institutions of LG Card have agreed to participate in a debt-to-equity conversion of certain loans both outstanding and to be extended in the near future as scheduled. The proposed debt-to-equity conversion is scheduled to be implemented in a number of tranches, including the first that will occur on February 13, 2004. Included in the group of the 17 participating creditor banks and financial institutions are Shinhan Bank and Chohung Bank, our major banking subsidiaries.

In January 2004, Shinhan Bank and Chohung Bank publicly announced the approval by their respective board of directors of the then proposed debt-to-equity conversion of their existing loans to LG Card, which amounts to KRW 81.3 billion and KRW 73.7 billion, respectively. The respective board of directors of Shinhan Bank and Chohung Bank also approved the extension of additional loans each amounting to KRW 81.0 billion and KRW 73.4 billion, respectively, to provide additional liquidity to LG Card, all of which would be subject to subsequent debt-to-equity conversion. Pursuant to these board approvals, on February 13, 2004, Shinhan Bank and Chohung Bank will implement the first tranche of debt-to-equity conversion amounting to KRW 40.65 billion and KRW 36.85 billion, respectively. The detailed schedule for the subsequent debt-to-equity conversion and the provision of additional liquidity will be disclosed as soon as it is finalized.

Set forth below are the details of the first tranche of debt-to-equity conversion to be implemented by Shinhan Bank and Chohung Bank in respect of its loans to LG Card.
