Comments of Management

Commenting on the results, Arnon Toussia-Cohen, President and CEO of RADCOM, said, "We are pleased to report our third straight quarter of sharp revenue growth, our lowest quarterly net loss in three years, and our highest gross margins since the fourth quarter of 2000. These encouraging results reflect continued growth in sales of our Cellular Performer product, which now accounts for approximately 50% of our revenues. The capabilities of this product have opened up a window of opportunity which we are addressing with an aggressive two-pronged sales strategy targeting cellular service providers and next-generation cellular equipment vendors. A number of potential customers are currently evaluating the product, and we are optimistic regarding its future sales."

RADCOM REPORTS/2

"At the same time," Mr. Toussia-Cohen added, "sales of our VoIP Performer product remain steady, and we are pleased with a rising level of interest in our Omni-Q product. VoIP deployments have begun to grow in scale, and the ramp-up in VoIP traffic is beginning to create significant quality challenges for service providers. We believe this will lead to increased demand over the long term for both the VoIP Performer and Omni-Q."

Mr. Toussia-Cohen concluded, "Overall, we are pleased with our results of the quarter. With exceptional products and strong demand, we feel well positioned and are optimistic regarding our future prospects."
