SONY ANNOUNCES REVISION OF CONSOLIDATED FORECAST FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 2005

Tokyo, January 20, 2005 -- Sony Corporation announced today a revision of its consolidated results forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2005 from those announced on October 28, 2004.

Consolidated Results Forecast

	Revised Forecast -----	Change from previous year -----	Previous Forecast -----
Sales and operating revenue	Y7,150 billion	- 5%	Y7,350 billion
Operating income	110 billion	+11	160 billion
Income before income taxes	140 billion	-3	170 billion
Net income	150 billion	+69	110 billion

The above revised forecast is primarily a result of the following:

1. Anticipated sales and operating revenue ("sales") and operating income are lower than the previous Company forecast as a result of changes in the business and competitive environment within Electronics.
2. Based on the improvement in the operating performance, over recent years, of Sony's U.S. subsidiaries and the fact that, looking forward, these favorable trends are expected to continue, the Company has reversed the valuation allowances it has held against deferred tax assets. The resulting reduction in income tax expense has led to an increase in the forecast for net income.

Further to the aforementioned reasons, the revision to the forecast for income before income taxes also reflects an anticipated increase in foreign exchange gains.

In addition, the forecast for operating income includes restructuring charges, as operating expenses, of approximately Y100 billion (a reduction of Y10 billion in restructuring charges since the October forecast). The forecast for net income incorporates approximately Y24 billion in equity in net income of affiliated companies.

Operating Results for the Third Quarter of the Fiscal Year ending March 31, 2005

Consolidated operating results for the quarter ended December 31, 2004 are projected to include sales of approximately Y2,150 billion, operating income of approximately Y140 billion, income before income taxes of Y150 billion, equity in net income of affiliated companies of Y2 billion and net income of Y140 billion. In addition, restructuring charges of approximately Y11 billion are included in operating expenses. However, please note that the above totals are subject to confirmation and that Sony's consolidated operating results for the third quarter are scheduled to be announced on January 27, 2005.

Primary Reasons for the Downward Revision to the Forecast for Sales and Operating Income

- * As a result of a greater than anticipated deterioration in unit selling prices of several products including televisions, DVD recorders and video cameras, profitability is below the Company's previously announced forecasts.
- * Due to a decrease in demand, in particular from external customers, sales and operating income for semiconductors and components are below Company expectations.
- * Sales and operating income for portable audio products are also anticipated to fall short of Company estimates as a result of changes in the competitive environment.
- * With regard to sales revenue on a regional basis, sales in Japan, in particular those of DVD recorders, portable audio products and "VAIO" PCs are lower than anticipated. In Europe, sales of portable audio products and video cameras, in particular, are below Company expectations.

The above-mentioned factors impact on Sony's operating results for both the third and fourth quarters of the current fiscal year.

Reason for Upward Revision to the Forecast for Net Income

- * As fully discussed in the Company's Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2004, and the earnings release for the second quarter of the current fiscal year, as a result of the recording of operating losses in the past, the U.S. subsidiaries of Sony have had valuation allowances against deferred tax assets for U.S. federal and certain state taxes. However, in the third quarter of
