The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the requirements for interim financial statements and, accordingly, they are condensed and omit certain disclosures, which would appear in audited annual financial statements. The financial statements as of March 31, 2004 and for the interim periods ended March 31, 2004 and 2003 are unaudited and, in the opinion of management, include all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation. The financial information as of December 31, 2003 has been derived from the audited financial statements as of that date. For further information, refer to the financial statements and the notes included in First Reliance Bancshares, Inc.'s 2003 audited financial statements in Form 10-KSB.

Note 2 - Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

No recent authoritative pronouncements that affect accounting, reporting, and disclosure of financial information by us have occurred during the quarter ending March 31, 2004.

Other accounting standards that have been issued or proposed by the FASB or other standards-setting bodies that do not require adoption until a future date are not expected to have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements upon adoption.

Note 3 - Stock-Based Compensation

The Company has a stock-based employee compensation plan which is accounted for under the recognition and measurement principles of Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related Interpretations. No stock-based employee compensation cost is reflected in net income, as all stock options granted under these plans had an exercise price equal to the market value of the underlying common stock on the date of grant. The following table illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share as if we had applied the fair value recognition provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, to stock-based employee compensation.

The following discussion of financial condition as of March 31, 2004 compared to December 31, 2003, and the results of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2004 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2003 should be read in conjunction with the condensed financial statements and accompanying footnotes appearing in this report.

Advisory Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

The statements contained in this report on Form 10-QSB that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements subject to the safe harbor created by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. We caution readers of this report that such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of us to be materially different from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Although we believe that our expectations of future performance is based on reasonable assumptions within the bounds of our knowledge of our business and operations, there can be no assurance that actual results will not differ materially from our expectations.

Factors which could cause actual results to differ from expectations include, among other things:

the challenges, costs and complications associated with the continued development of our branches;

the potential that loan charge-offs may exceed the allowance for loan losses or that such allowance will be increased as a result of factors beyond the control of us;

our dependence on senior management;

competition from existing financial institutions operating in our market areas as well as the entry into such areas of new competitors with greater resources, broader branch networks and more comprehensive services;

adverse conditions in the stock market, the public debt market, and other capital markets (including changes in interest rate conditions);

changes in deposit rates, the net interest margin, and funding sources;

inflation, interest rate, market, and monetary fluctuations;

Edgar Filing: FIRST RELIANCE BANCSHARES INC - Form 10QSB

risks inherent in making loans including repayment risks and value of collateral;

the strength of the United States economy in general and the strength of the local economies in which we conduct operations may be different than expected resulting in, among other things, a deterioration in credit quality or a reduced demand for credit, including the resultant effect on our loan portfolio and allowance for loan losses;

fluctuations in consumer spending and saving habits;

the demand for our products and services;

technological changes;

the challenges and uncertainties in the implementation of our expansion and development strategies;

the ability to increase market share;

the adequacy of expense projections and estimates of impairment loss;

the impact of changes in accounting policies by the Securities and Exchange Commission;

unanticipated regulatory or judicial proceedings;

the potential negative effects of future legislation affecting financial institutions (including without limitation laws concerning taxes, banking, securities, and insurance);

the effects of, and changes in, trade, monetary and fiscal policies and laws, including interest rate policies of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System;

the timely development and acceptance of products and services, including products and services offered through alternative delivery channels such as the Internet;

the impact on our business, as well as on the risks set forth above, of various domestic or international military or terrorist activities or conflicts;

other factors described in this report and in other reports we have filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission; and our success at managing the risks involved in the foregoing.

Critical Accounting Policies

We have adopted various accounting policies which govern the application of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States in the preparation of our financial statements. Our significant accounting policies are described in the notes to the consolidated financial statements at December 31, 2003 as filed on our annual report on Form 10-KSB. Certain accounting policies involve significant judgments and assumptions by us which have a material impact on the carrying value of certain assets and liabilities. We consider these accounting policies to be critical accounting policies. The judgments and assumptions we use are based on the historical experience and other factors, which we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances. Because of the nature of the judgments and assumptions we make, actual results could differ from these judgments and estimates which could have a major impact on our carrying values of assets and liabilities and our results of operations.

We believe the allowance for loan losses is a critical accounting policy that requires the most significant judgments and estimates used in preparation of our consolidated financial statements. Refer to the portion of this discussion that addresses our allowance for loan losses for description of our processes and methodology for determining our allowance for loan losses.

Regulatory Matters

We are not aware of any current recommendations by regulatory authorities which, if they were to be implemented, would have a material effect on liquidity, capital resources or operations.

Results of Operations

Net Interest Income

For the three months ended March 31, 2004, net interest income was $1,874,709, which is an increase of $578,881, or 44.67%, over the same period in 2003. Interest income from loans, including fees, increased $755,364, or 47.17%, from the three months ended March 31, 2003 to the comparable period in 2004 and is primarily due to an increase in our loan portfolio. Interest expense for the three months ended March 31, 2004 was $774,843 compared to $554,992 compared for the same period in 2003. The increase is primarily attributable to an increase in interest-bearing deposits. The net interest margin realized on earning assets was 4.13% for the three months ended March 31, 2004, as compared to 4.79% for the three months ended March 31, 2003. The interest rate spread was 3.71% for the three months ended March 31, 2004 as compared to 4.37% for the three months ended March 31, 2003. This decrease is primarily attributable to competitive market conditions in our area.

Provision and Allowance for Loan Losses

Edgar Filing: FIRST RELIANCE BANCSHARES INC - Form 10QSB

The provision for loan losses is the charge to operating earnings that we feel is necessary to maintain the allowance for loan losses at an adequate level. For the three months ended March 31, 2004, the provision for loan losses was $109,928. For the three months ended March 31, 2003, the provision for loan losses was $65,000. Based on present information, we believe the allowance for loan losses was adequate at March 31, 2004 to meet presently known and inherent risks in the loan portfolio. The allowance for loan losses was 1.31% and 1.18% of total loans at March 31, 2003 and 2004, respectively. There are risks inherent in making all loans, including risks with respect to the period of time over which loans may be repaid, risks resulting from changes in economic and industry conditions, risks inherent in dealing with individual borrowers, and, in the case of a collateralized loan, risks resulting from uncertainties about the future value of the collateral. We maintain an allowance for loan losses based on, among other things, historical experience, an evaluation of economic conditions, and regular reviews of delinquencies and loan portfolio quality. The allowance is based upon a number of assumptions about future events, which management believes to be reasonable, but which may not prove to be accurate. Thus, there is a risk that charge-offs in future periods could exceed the allowance for loan losses or that substantial additional increases in the allowance for loan losses could be required. Additions to the allowance for loan losses would result in a decrease in net income and, possibly, in capital.

Noninterest Income

Noninterest income during the three months ended March 31, 2004 was $490,942, a decrease of $5,625, or 1.13%, from the comparable period in 2003. The decrease is primarily a result of a decrease in residential mortgage origination fees from $204,878 for the three months ended March 31, 2003 to $99,005 for the three months ended March 31, 2004. Record low interest rates in early 2003 led to a significant number of home mortgage refinancings. Refinancings leveled off during the fourth quarter of 2003 and remained that way during the first quarter of 2004. Service charges on deposit accounts increased $31,868, or 14.72%, to $248,387 for the three months ended March 31, 2004, as compared to the same period in 2003. This was the result of increased deposits between the two periods.

Noninterest Expense

Total noninterest expense for the three months ended March 31, 2004 was $1,795,302, or 38.36%, higher than the three months ended March 31, 2003. The primary reason was the $327,936 increase in salaries and employee benefits over the two periods as we continued to hire employees as we expand into the Lexington, South Carolina market. In addition, furniture and equipment expense increased $91,941, or 178.36%, for the three months ending March 31, 2004 as compared to the three months ending March 31, 2003. This increase is also primarily a result of additional expenses associated with the growth of the Bank through its expansion into the Lexington market.

Income Taxes

The income tax provision for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and for the three months ended March 31, 2003 was $136,246 and $124,107, respectively. The provision was based on an effective tax rate of 29% and 30% for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and for the three months ended March 31, 2003, respectively.

Net Income

The combination of the above factors resulted in net income, after income taxes provisions, for the three months ended March 31, 2004 and for the three months ended March 31, 2003 of $321,175 and $305,736, respectively. Net income before taxes for the two periods was $460,421 and $429,843, respectively. The net income results for both periods is primarily due to significant increases in loan volume and decreases in rates paid on deposit accounts during each respective period.

Liquidity

Liquidity needs are met through scheduled maturities of loans and investments on the asset side and through pricing policies on the liability side for interest-bearing deposit accounts and advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank. The level of liquidity is measured by the loan-to-total funds ratio, which was at 86.32% at March 31, 2004 and 86.64% at December 31, 2003.

Total shareholders' equity increased $769,389 from December 31, 2003 to $18,472,028 at March 31, 2004. The main reason for this increase was net income generated by the Bank's operations, which totaled $321,175 for the three months ended March 31, 2004. In addition, we issued 27,900 shares of stock through our Employee Stock Ownership Plan which resulted in proceeds of $265,886. Also, the change in accumulated other comprehensive income resulted in a positive impact on equity of $182,329.

We are subject to various regulatory capital requirements administered by the federal banking agencies. Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require us to maintain minimum ratios of Tier 1 and total capital as a percentage of assets and off-balance-sheet exposures, adjusted for risk weights ranging from 0% to 100%. Our Tier 1 capital consists of common stockholders' equity, excluding the unrealized gain or loss on securities available-for-sale, minus certain intangible assets. Our Tier 2 capital consists of the allowance for loan losses subject to certain limitations. Total capital for purposes of computing the capital ratios consists of the sum of Tier 1 and Tier 2 capital. The regulatory minimum requirements are 4% for Tier 1 and 8% for total risk-based capital.

We are also required to maintain capital at a minimum level based on adjusted quarterly average assets, which is known as the leverage ratio. Only the strongest banks are allowed to maintain capital at the minimum requirement of 3%. All others are subject to maintaining ratios 1% to 2% above the minimum.

The following summarizes the Bank's risk-based capital at March 31, 2004:

Shareholders' equity	$ 18,472,028
