Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

As more fully discussed below in Item 4.02, on April 28, 2006, Dynegy Inc. (Dynegy or the Company) issued a press release announcing that its previously issued audited financial statements for the year 2005 and its unaudited interim financial statements for the second and third quarters of 2005 should not be relied upon because of an error in those financial statements and that those financial statements would be restated to make the necessary accounting adjustments.

Item 4.02 Non-Reliance on Previously Issued Financial Statements or a Related Audit Report or Completed Interim Review.

On April 28, 2006, Dynegy issued a press release announcing that its previously issued audited financial statements for the year 2005 and its unaudited interim financial statements for the second and third quarters of 2005 should not be relied upon because of an error in those financial statements and that the Company would restate those financial statements to reflect a $13 million increase in the Company's net deferred tax liability.

The restatements, which will be effected through amendments to Dynegy's 2005 Form 10-K and second and third quarter 2005 Form 10-Qs, relate to Dynegy's deferred income tax accounts. In the second quarter 2005, Dynegy recognized a $125 million tax benefit in anticipation of the sale of its Midstream natural gas liquids business. This benefit resulted from a reduction in the valuation allowance related to the Company's capital loss carryforwards expected to be used against capital gains generated by the Midstream sale. Dynegy recently identified that a portion of the capital loss carryforwards had been previously used, and therefore was not available for use against the 2005 capital gains. Because Dynegy mistakenly used these unavailable capital loss carryforwards against capital gains generated by the Midstream sale, income from discontinued operations was overstated by $13 million and its net deferred tax liability was understated by $13 million.

As a result, Dynegy intends to restate its previously reported financial results to reflect the following adjustments:

Income from discontinued operations for year-end 2005, which was reported as $912 million, will be reduced to $899 million;

Net income for year-end 2005, which was reported as $103 million, will be reduced to $90 million; and

Net income applicable to common stockholders for year-end 2005, which was reported as $81 million or $0.21 per diluted share, will be reduced to $68 million or $0.18 per diluted share.

Dynegy expects to file an amended 2005 Form 10-K and amended second and third quarter 2005 Form 10-Qs reflecting the $13 million adjustment prior to filing its first quarter 2006 Form 10-Q, which we expect to file on or before the required filing date. Accordingly, the referenced financial statements should not be relied upon until such time as the Company files its restatements.

The Company previously identified and disclosed that in connection with the evaluation and testing activities for Section 404 of Sarbanes-Oxley it had identified a material weakness in its internal controls related to the preparation, analysis and recording of its income tax provision. Dynegy determined that this restatement is a result of the material weakness. Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting as of December 31, 2005 will also be restated in the Form 10-K/A when filed. The Company is continuing to remediate this material weakness in order to enhance and strengthen its accounting for income taxes.

The decision to restate prior financial statements was made by the Audit and Compliance Committee of the Board of Directors (the Audit Committee), upon the recommendation of management, on April 28, 2006. Dynegy believes that the adjustments will not impact the Company's cash and liquidity positions or its cash flow and earnings estimates as previously announced on March 8, 2006. The Audit Committee has discussed with PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, Dynegy's independent auditors, the matters disclosed in this Current Report on Form 8-K.

A copy of Dynegy's April 28th press release is attached hereto as exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by this reference. In addition, this current report on Form 8-K and the April 28th press release contain statements intended as forward-looking statements which are subject to the cautionary statements about forward-looking statements set forth in the press release.
