Third Quarter 2014 Condensed Information

Rio de Janeiro, December 12, 2014 – Petróleo Brasileiro S.A. – Petrobras announces that today, in light of new facts that occurred after November 13, 2014, directly or indirectly related to the “Lava Jato Operation”, it decided not to file its consolidated interim financial statements for the 3rd quarter 2014 not reviewed by the independent auditors. These facts are set out below:

- (i) Obtained a waiver for its earliest financial reporting covenants that allows the Company to release its interim financial statements for the 3rd quarter 2014 by January 31, 2015, with no risk of acceleration of its finance debt by its creditors;
- (ii) On November 21, 2014, Petrobras received a subpoena from the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) requesting certain documents relating to an investigation of the Company by the SEC;
- (iii) On December 3, 2014, Petrobras gained access to the depositions of Mr. Julio Gerin de Almeida Camargo (Grupo Toyo) and Mr. Augusto Ribeiro de Mendonça Neto (Grupo Setal) given as state’s evidence to prosecutors;
- (iv) On December 9, 2014, the Company was served with a class-action complaint filed by Mr. Peter Kaltman before the U.S. Court (United States District Court, Southern District of New York). We expect additional complaints to be filed, which could potentially be consolidated with Kaltman’s complaint;
- (v) On November 11, 2014, criminal charges were filed by the Brazilian Public Prosecutor’s Office against several individuals, including the Former Director of Downstream, Paulo Roberto Costa, and managers of other companies for active corruption, passive corruption, organized crime, money-laundering and falsification of documents.

However, in order to comply with its responsibility to inform and to foster diligence and transparency the Company is releasing information regarding its operational performance and certain other financial information that Petrobras believes would not be affected by the potential adjustments to its financial statements resulting from the “Lava Jato Operation”. This information has not been reviewed by our independent auditors.

Sales Revenues reached R$ 88,378 million and Cash and Cash Equivalents reached R$ 62,409 million in the 3Q-2014.

Sales revenues were 7% higher when compared to the 2Q-2014, resulting from higher crude oil exports and increased domestic demand, mainly diesel, which was mostly met by domestic output of oil products. When compared to Jan-Sep/2013, the 13% increase in sales revenues is attributable to higher oil product prices in the domestic market resulting from the impact in the full year of 2014 of diesel and gasoline price adjustments in 2013 and the impact of foreign currency depreciation (8%) over the price of oil products that are adjusted to reflect international prices and export prices, as well as higher electricity and natural gas prices. Domestic demand for oil products increased by 3%, mainly diesel (2%), gasoline (5%) and fuel oil (21%), and crude oil exports volume was 12% higher, partially offset by a decrease in fuel oil exports volume (14%).

Our Executive Officers recently approved the implementation of a series of actions that will be undertaken in order to maintain our cash level, which was R$ 62.4 billion as of September 30, 2014, and the liquidity of the Company. These actions include, for example, discounting receivables, reducing the level of capital expenditures, reviewing product pricing strategies and reducing operating costs in activities that were out of the scope of our structuring cost reduction programs; and assure positive free cash flow next year, considering crude oil prices of around U.S.$ 70/bbl and foreign exchange rate of R$ 2.60/U.S.$; thus eliminating the need for additional financing in the capital markets next year.

Domestic production (Mbbbl/day)

Edgar Filing: PETROBRAS - PETROLEO BRASILEIRO SA - Form 6-K

2,531	2,383	6	2,314	Total	2,413	2,314	4
--------------	--------------	----------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	----------

(3Q-2014 x 2Q-2014): The 6% increase in crude oil and NGL production is attributable to the ramp-up of P-55 (Roncador), P-62 (Roncador), P-58 (Parque das Baleias) and FPSO Cidade de Paraty (Lula NE), along with the start-up of the extended well test of Iara Oeste and of the Anticipated Production System of Tartaruga Verde.

Natural gas production increased by 7% due to a higher production in P-53 (Marlim Leste), P-54 (Roncador), P-55 (Roncador), P-62 (Roncador), P-58 (Parque das Baleias), FPSOs Cidade de Santos (Uruguá-Tambaú) and Cidade de Paraty (Lula NE).

(Jan-Sep/2014 x Jan-Sep/2013): Crude oil and NGL production increased by 4% in Jan-Sep/2014 resulting from the start-up of Stationary Production Units P-63 (Papa-Terra), P-55 (Roncador), P-62 (Roncador) and P-58 (Parque das Baleias) and from the ramp-up of FPSO Cidade de Itajaí (Baúna), Cidade de Paraty (Lula NE) and Cidade de São Paulo (Sapinhoá). The natural decline of fields partially offset these effects.

The 7% increase in natural gas production is attributable to a higher production in Mexilhão, Parque das Baleias, Uruguá-Tambaú, Sapinhoá and Lula Nordeste fields.

(3Q-2014 x 2Q-2014): Our domestic sales volumes increased by 3% when compared to the 2Q-2014, primarily resulting from:

- Diesel (a 5% increase) – due to seasonal demand to support summer grain seeding and industrial activity, as well as higher consumption by thermoelectric plants;

(Jan-Sep/2014 x Jan-Sep/2013): Our domestic sales volumes increased by 4% in Jan-Sep/2014 when compared to Jan-Sep/2013, primarily resulting from:

- Diesel (a 2% increase) – due to higher consumption by infrastructure construction work and an increase in the Brazilian diesel-fueled light vehicle fleet (vans, pick-ups and SUVs);

- Fuel oil (an 11% increase) – due to higher consumption by thermoelectric plants; and
- LPG (a 4% increase) – due to the lower average temperatures and higher economic activity.
- Gasoline (a 5% increase) – due to an increase in the automotive fleet attributable to the competitive advantage of gasoline prices relatively to ethanol prices in most Brazilian states and to a higher household consumption. An increase in the anhydrous ethanol mandatory content in Type C gasoline from 20% to 25% partially offset these effects; and
- Fuel oil (a 21% increase) – higher demand by ancillary thermoelectric plants in several Brazilian states when compared to Jan-Sep/2013.

(3Q-2014 x 2Q-2014): Crude oil exports were higher, due to an increase in crude oil production and to the realization of exports that were in transit on June 30.

The decrease in crude oil imports is attributable to the higher import volume in the 2Q-2014 attributable to economic signals of trading opportunities.

(Jan-Sep/2014 x Jan-Sep/2013): Crude oil exports and refining throughput were higher, resulting from an increase in crude oil production, which helped reduce crude oil imports.

Oil product imports were higher and oil product exports were lower in Jan-Sep/2014 when compared to Jan-Sep/2013 to meet an increase in domestic demand.

(Jan-Sep/2014 x Jan-Sep/2013): Daily feedstock processed was 1% higher in Jan-Sep/2014 when compared to Jan-Sep/2013, resulting from a sustainable improvement of the performance of our refineries. The 2% increase in our output of oil products is attributable to the higher conversion of intermediate products.

(3Q-2014 x 2Q-2014): Electricity sales volumes were 3% higher in the Free Contracting Environment – ACL due to seasonal long-term agreements and to higher sales volumes in the spot market.

Electricity sales volumes were 9% higher in the Regulated Contracting Environment – ACR due to the full impact of the 574 average MW sold in the A0/2014 electricity auction, which was delivered as from May 2014.

The 2% increase in electricity generation is attributable to higher thermoelectric demand in August, setting a monthly record level for 2014, compared to a lower level in June, resulting from higher rainfall levels in the Southern region of Brazil.

The 23% decrease in LNG imports was due to a higher supply of domestic natural gas attributable to an increase in natural gas production.

The 2% increase in natural gas imports from Bolivia was due to higher thermoelectric demand.

(Jan-Sep/2014 x Jan-Sep/2013): Electricity sales volumes were 41% lower in Jan-Sep/2014 when compared to Jan-Sep/2013 resulting from the shift of a portion of our available capacity (574 average MW) towards the regulated contracting environment in the domestic market (Regulated Contracting Environment – ACR). The termination of our lease agreement for UTE Araucária, which reduced the availability of electricity for trading (349 average MW) and the lower demand in the spot market, attributable to higher spot prices, also reduced our sales volumes.

Electricity generation was 4% higher and spot prices increased by 161% due to lower rainfall levels in the period.

LNG imports and natural gas imports from Bolivia were 25% and 5% higher, respectively, to meet a higher thermoelectric demand.
