ITEM 1. BUSINESS

GENERAL DEVELOPMENT

The Topps Company, Inc. was incorporated in Delaware on February 24, 1987. The Company is the successor to Topps Chewing Gum, Inc., which was established as a partnership in 1938 and was incorporated under the laws of New York in 1947. All references in this Annual Report on Form 10-K to "Topps" or the "Company" are to The Topps Company, Inc. and its subsidiaries.

Topps is a marketer of premium-branded confectionery products including lollipops such as Ring Pop, Push Pop and Baby Bottle Pop, Bazooka brand bubble gum and certain novelty candy products. The Company also markets collectible entertainment products featuring professional athletes and popular television, movie and other licensed characters. Entertainment product formats include, among other things, trading cards, sticker albums, tattoos and toys.

In 1995, the Company acquired Merlin Publishing International Limited ("Merlin"), a U.K.-based marketer of licensed collectibles, primarily sticker album collections. While continuing to market products under the Merlin brand name, Merlin changed its corporate name to Topps Europe Ltd. ("Topps Europe") in March 1997. In August 2001, the Company acquired thePit.com, Inc. which operates an Internet-based sports card exchange.

The Company, which is headquartered in New York, N.Y., also has offices in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Canada, the U.K., Ireland, Italy and Argentina and distributes its products in numerous countries around the world.

PRODUCTS

Confectionery -----

The Company markets premium quality lollipops throughout the United States, Canada, Europe and parts of Latin America, Asia and Australia. Branded lollipops include Ring Pop (made of candy molded into the form of an exaggerated precious gem stone and anchored to a plastic ring), Push Pop (a cylinder-shaped lollipop packaged in a plastic container with a removable cap, designed to enable consumers to eat a portion of the pop and save the rest for later) and Baby Bottle Pop (a miniature baby bottle filled with fruit-flavored powder and topped with a candy nipple).

The Company has marketed Bazooka brand bubble gum since 1947. Traditional chunk Bazooka bubble gum is produced in individually-wrapped rectangular pieces in a variety of flavors and sold generally at a suggested retail price of five cents a piece. Individual pieces of Bazooka brand bubble gum include a comic featuring Bazooka Joe, a copyrighted cartoon character created by the Company in 1953. In addition to individual pieces, the Company sells multiple piece packs of Bazooka which are designed for distribution across all major trade channels.

In the U.S., the Company is focused on a three-pronged strategy -- providing children with compelling high quality products, expanding product availability (distribution and in-store location) and advertising on national children's television programs. As a result, the Company has experienced solid progress in terms of its U.S. competitive share position, retail distribution and brand and advertising awareness. Overseas, the primary emphasis has been on delivering innovative products to the marketplace and securing new listings in key retailers. In 2003, confectionery distribution in Europe was expanded to include Tesco and Safeway in the U.K., Albert Heine in Holland (part of the Ahold group), and Carrefour in France.

Beginning in fiscal 2000 and peaking in fiscal 2001, the Company marketed a line of Pokemon candy products which included lollipops as well as a plastic container replica of the Pokemon ball with candy and a decorated Pokemon figure inside. In fiscal 2002, the Company introduced a seasonal products line focused on the Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter holidays.

In fiscal 2003, the Company launched Flip N' Dip Push Pop (a Push Pop with a container of fruit-flavored powder), Baby Bottle Pop Candy Juice (liquid candy in a Baby Bottle Pop container), Juicy Drop Pop (a pop with a separate container of candy juice to be squirted onto the pop) and Yu-Gi-Oh! sticker pops. Additionally, the Company introduced line extensions such as Twisted Fruit Baby Bottle Pop and Twisted Fruit Triple Power Push Pop (two flavors of candy swirled together in each pop).

Entertainment

Effective with the fourth quarter of 2003, the Company combined the Sports and Entertainment segments into a single segment, Entertainment, consistent with Topps organizational structure and product line similarities. The Entertainment segment primarily consists of trading cards and sticker album picture products featuring both sports and non-sports licenses.

Edgar Filing: TOPPS CO INC - Form 10-K

In the U.S. and Canada, picture products are generally sold in the form of cards, while in the rest of the world picture products are typically sold in the form of sticker albums. The Company markets cards in various size packages for distribution through a variety of trade channels. Sticker album products are designed so that stickers, which are sold in packages, can be placed in an associated album which contains more detailed information on the subject. Internationally, the Company distributes sticker album collections under the Merlin and Topps brands. These products are sold to consumers through retail channels as well as over the Internet.

Sports card and sticker album products contain photographs of athletes as well as other features, including player and team statistics, biographical material and occasionally, pieces of memorabilia and/or players' autographs. Sports card products feature professional sports figures from Major League Baseball, NFL Football, NBA Basketball and NHL Hockey, while sports sticker album products feature athletes from English Premier League Football (soccer). The Company also has rights to market bubble gum with mini-stickers featuring Italy's Serie A soccer league. Additionally, in fiscal 2003, the Company marketed Team England and Team Ireland sticker album products associated with the World Cup soccer tournament, which occurs once every four years.

The Company distributes sports card products in North America under brand names including, but not limited to, Topps, Topps Heritage, Topps Finest, Topps Gallery, Topps Stadium Club, Topps Gold Label, Topps Chrome, Topps Pristine and Bowman. The Company attempts to ensure that each brand of sports cards has its own unique positioning in the marketplace. For example, Topps Heritage, a retro brand with bubble gum in every pack, addresses a perceived consumer demand for nostalgia-based products and capitalizes on Topps' heritage and history in the sports collectible industry.

Non-sports cards and sticker album products feature licenses from popular films, television shows and other properties. The Company has marketed non-sports trading cards and sticker album products since the 1950's, featuring some of the dominant entertainment properties of all time, including The Beatles, Elvis Presley, Star Wars, Michael Jackson, E.T.: The Extra-Terrestrial, Indiana Jones, Batman, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, Jurassic Park and Pokemon. Occasionally, the Company has also created cards and stickers featuring its own entertainment properties such as Wacky Packages, Garbage Pail Kids and Mars Attacks, as well as cards detailing events of national interest such as Desert Storm and Enduring Freedom. During the fiscal 2000 to 2003 period, the Company distributed Pokemon products in over 44 countries and 25 languages.

In fiscal 2003 the Company marketed non-sports trading card and sticker album products featuring licenses including Star Wars Episode II: Attack of the Clones, Lord of the Rings: The Two Towers, Spider-Man, Yu-Gi-Oh! (sticker albums only), and The Simpsons. Over the years, entertainment cards and sticker album products have experienced peaks and valleys in terms of consumer interest, which has prompted the Company to be highly selective in determining which entertainment licenses to pursue.

All card and sticker album products are high quality, showcasing various technologies and state-of-the-art reproduction techniques. Cards may include printing features such as foil stamping, film lamination, autographs and/or small pieces of memorabilia. The Company is continuously updating the features of its cards and sticker album products and seeking new ideas and printing technologies. Card prices generally range from a suggested retail price of $0.99 per pack to $7.00 per pack, while overseas sticker pack prices are generally the equivalent of approximately fifty cents. The Company also sells certain sports products in pack configurations at prices exceeding $30 per pack and in box configurations at a suggested retail price of $100 or more.

In October 2001, the Company launched etopps, a trading card brand sold exclusively on the Internet at www.etopps.com. Each week on the etopps website, a limited number of cards featuring distinguished veteran and rookie players are offered for sale via "Initial Player Offerings", or IPOs. Upon assuming ownership, a customer may take delivery of cards, each of which come in a special sealed protective case, or elect to have Topps hold the cards in a secure warehouse. Cards held by the Company can be tracked via personal on-line portfolios and traded on an exclusive etopps trading floor on eBay. All etopps cards adhere to high-quality printing and manufacturing standards and have pre-numbered stickers in order to assure authenticity.

In August 2001, the Company acquired all the outstanding common stock in thePit.com, Inc. for $5.7 million in cash. ThePit.com makes a market in sports cards and provides a means by which collectors can buy and sell cards in real time over the Internet. The Company also markets memorabilia over the Internet through ToppsVault.com.

From time to time the Company has explored opportunities within the toy and game arena which leverage its marketing and distribution strengths. In February 2003, the Company launched a series of collectible Cool Junk toy products which were marketed through toy retailers in the U.S.

For a schedule of net sales by key business segment for the past three fiscal years, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" on page 5 of the Company's Annual Report to Stockholders for the year ended March 1, 2003 (the "Annual Report"), which is hereby incorporated by reference.

DISTRIBUTION AND MARKETING

Sales and Distribution

The Company's products are sold throughout the United States, Canada and Europe, as well as in parts of Latin America, Asia and Australia.

In the U.S. and Canada, internal and field sales employees handle sales of confectionery products to national accounts. Confectionery sales to other channels are handled by a nationwide network of broker organizations managed by Topps employees. Topps confectionery products reach tens of thousands of retail outlets including supermarkets, drugstores, convenience stores, mass merchandisers, warehouse clubs, dollar stores, video outlets and other specialty accounts. The Company's own employees also handle U.S. sales of entertainment card products to approximately 2,100 hobby stores, hobby distributors and category managers who service major retail outlets.

In the U.K., sales of both confectionery and entertainment products are handled by a dedicated field sales force augmented by wholesalers selling to independent retailers. Together, the sales force and wholesalers reach approximately 30,000 retail news and confectionery outlets. Elsewhere in Europe, as well as in Latin America, Japan and Australia, sales are generated primarily through distributors.

Advertising and Promotion

The Company utilizes a variety of marketing techniques, including television, radio and print advertising campaigns, sweepstakes and promotions designed to create consumer awareness and stimulate retail sales of its products. Advertising and marketing expenses (which encompass media spending and consumer promotions) included in selling, general, and administrative expenses amounted to $20,145,000 in fiscal 2003, $18,790,000 in fiscal 2002 and $21,514,000 in fiscal 2001.

Approximately 85% of the Company's fiscal 2003 sales were made on a returnable basis. Industry practice requires that the Company provide the right to return on sales of trading card products (excluding those to certain channels of distribution), on confectionery products and on sales of most sticker album products. Consolidated return provisions net of reversals as a percentage of gross sales for the fiscal years ended 2003, 2002 and 2001 were 6.7%, 4.4%, and 7.5%, respectively. Returns significantly in excess of the Company's returns provisions could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

PRODUCTION

Confectionery

Ring Pop lollipops for sale in North America are manufactured at the Company's Scranton, Pennsylvania factory. Ring Pop lollipops for sale in international markets as well as all Push Pops, Baby Bottle Pops and most of the Company's other lollipop products are manufactured by a single supplier in factories located in Taiwan, Thailand and China. Sticker pops and licensed bubble gum products are manufactured by a single supplier in Brazil. The loss of production at one or more of these facilities due to civil unrest or for any other reason could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

Bazooka bubble gum is produced by the Hershey Foods Corporation under a contract which is renewed annually for a five-year term. This contract requires the Company to source all of its current U.S. Bazooka production needs from Hershey, provided it can fulfill the orders on a timely basis. Failure by Hershey to supply the Company on a timely basis could have a material adverse effect on sales of Bazooka until the Company could make other arrangements.

Confectionery raw materials and paperboard, packaging materials, foil stamping and UV coating for cards, among other things, are required to manufacture the Company's total line of confectionery and entertainment products and are generally available to the Company. The Company relies on single producers for several of these ingredients or processes, although alternative suppliers are generally available. If any of these single sources were no longer available to the Company, some adjustment in product specification would probably be required.

Entertainment

In the U.S., photographs of athletes are generally taken by free-lance

photographers on special assignment with the Company. In addition, certain photography is provided by the organizations representing the leagues and their member teams. Pictures of non-sports entertainment subjects are generally furnished by the respective licensor or created by artists retained by the Company. Computerized graphic artwork and design development for all of the Company's products is done by staff artists and through independent design agencies under the Company's direction. The Company's Graphic Services Department also utilizes computerized technology to enhance and color-correct photography and computer imaging to create interesting and unusual backgrounds and visual effects.

High-quality substrates (paperboard, foilboard) are sent directly to outside printers by the Company's suppliers. Pictures are printed utilizing a variety of techniques and sometimes include foil stamp and UV (ultra violet) coating. Cards that require specialized printing and the combination of various substrates like plastic, polystyrene and holographic foils are purchased in full sheet form from specialty printers. Full sheets are then delivered to contract packers where they are cut into individual cards, collated and wrapped in a variety of package configurations.

Sticker production in Europe is subcontracted and coordinated by a single supplier in Italy, and album production is subcontracted to three suppliers in Italy. Adhesive material and packaging are sourced and printed by various subcontractors in Italy. The Company believes that there are other suitable sources available to meet its requirements if the current suppliers were unable to meet the Company's needs.

TRADEMARKS AND LICENSE AGREEMENTS

The Company considers its trademarks and license agreements to be of material importance to its business. The Company's principal trademarks have been registered in the United States and many foreign countries where its products are sold. Sports picture products marketed in the U.S. are all produced under license agreements with individual athletes or their players' associations, as well as the licensing bodies of the professional sports leagues. These agreements cover the following sports: Major League Baseball, NBA Basketball, NFL Football and NHL Hockey. The Company also has a contract with Premier League Soccer in England and with players and teams with regard to soccer in Italy. The Company's inability to renew, or continue to operate under, licenses relating to Major League Baseball or U.K. Premiere League soccer, and its ability to market products in these sports, could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

The Company has an individual license agreement with virtually every major league baseball player. Each baseball player's license agreement is initially for four major league baseball seasons and may be extended for additional seasons as rights are used, if the player and the Company agree. Typically, these agreements are extended annually. Among the rights the Company receives are rights to use a player's name, picture, facsimile signature and biographical description in the form of two or three dimensional pictures, trading cards, postcards, stickers, stamps, transfers, decals, medallions or coins, each within certain size limitations. The licenses granted to the Company by athletes permit the athlete to grant others rights to the use of his name, picture and facsimile signature on other products, including collectible picture cards sold alone or with products other than gum and (with certain exceptions) candy. The Company conducts a related active licensing program with minor league baseball players and continuously seeks to supplement its relationship with the baseball community by personal visits and corporate identification. The Company considers such relationships to be good and to be of great importance to it. However, should an appreciable number of Major League Baseball players refuse to sign the Company's license agreement, it could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

The Company has a related agreement with the Major League Baseball Players Association, which governs certain terms of the individual player contracts. The Company also has an agreement with Major League Baseball Properties, Inc., which, among other things, covers the use of the names and insignias of the baseball teams and leagues in connection with its baseball picture products. Although the written agreement expired at the end of 2000, the parties have agreed to continue to operate under its terms. The parties are currently negotiating the final terms of a new written agreement. However, the inability of the parties to execute a new written agreement could have a material adverse effect on the Company.

The Company also enters into license agreements with non-sports entertainment companies to produce certain products. The terms of these contracts depend on a variety of factors.

Total royalty expense under the Company's sports and non-sports entertainment licensing contracts for the fiscal years ended 2003, 2002 and 2001 was $25,344,000, $25,669,000 and $46,727,000 respectively. See Note 18 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in the Annual Report, which is incorporated herein by reference, for a description of minimum guarantee payments required under the Company's existing sports and non-sports entertainment contracts.

COMPETITION

The Company competes for sales as well as counter and shelf space with large corporations in the food, candy, publishing, toy and other industries. Many of these corporations have substantially greater resources than the Company. More narrowly, the Company competes with other companies, large and small, which market gum and candy, and with a number of picture product companies for the spending money of children and adult collectors. The Company believes that the industries in which it operates are highly competitive.

SEASONALITY

The Company's sales of confectionery products are impacted by the introduction of new products and line extensions as well as by advertising, and consumer and trade support programs. U.S. sports card products are sold throughout the year, spanning the four major sports seasons in which the Company currently participates, i.e., baseball, football, basketball and hockey. Topps Europe's sales of sports sticker album products are driven largely by shipments of Premier League Soccer, with much of the sales activity occurring in December through April. Sales of non-sports cards and sticker albums tend to be driven by the property on which they are based, often peaking with the release of a movie or the rise in popularity of a television program or particular licensed property.

Edgar Filing: TOPPS CO INC - Form 10-K

DEPENDENCE ON CERTAIN CUSTOMERS

The Company has one customer, McLane Distribution Services, Inc. that accounted for 11.4% of the Company's net sales in fiscal 2003. This customer purchases primarily confectionery products from the Company and distributes these products to Wal-Mart, Sam's Club, Southland Corp., and convenience stores in the U.S. The loss of this customer could have a material adverse effect on the Company's plans and results.

ENVIRONMENT

The Company believes that it is in compliance in all material respects with existing federal, state and local regulations relating to the protection of the environment. Such environmental regulations have not had a material impact on the Company's capital expenditures, earnings or competitive position.

EMPLOYEES

The Company employed approximately 450 people in fiscal 2003.

All of the production employees at the Company's factory in Scranton, Pennsylvania are represented by a union. The current union agreement expires in February 2008.

The Company considers relations with its employees to be good.

AVAILABILITY OF THIS REPORT

The Company's financial information, including the information contained in this report filed on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K, and any amendments to the above mentioned reports may be viewed on the Internet at www.topps.com. Copies are also available, without charge, from the Company. Alternatively, reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") may be viewed or obtained at the SEC Public Reference Room in Washington, D.C., or at the SEC's Internet site at www.sec.gov.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENTS

In connection with the "safe harbor" provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (the "Reform Act"), the Company is hereby filing cautionary statements identifying important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in any forward-looking statements of the Company made by or on behalf of the Company, whether oral or written. The Company wishes to ensure that any forward-looking statements are accompanied by meaningful cautionary statements in order to maximize to the fullest extent possible the protections of the safe harbor established in the Reform Act. Accordingly, any such statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to, and are accompanied by, the following important factors, among others, that could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements of the Company:

1. Dependence on Licenses. The Company's trading card and sticker album businesses are highly dependent upon licensing arrangements with third parties. These licenses, which have varying expiration dates, are obtained from the various professional sports leagues, players associations and, in certain instances, the players themselves as well as from non-sports entertainment companies. The Company's inability to renew or retain these licenses, or the lack of vitality of these licenses, could materially adversely affect its future plans and results.

2. Contraction in Sports Card Industry. The Company believes that the sports card industry as a whole has contracted significantly over the last ten years. Further prolonged and material contraction in the sports card industry, whether caused by labor strife or otherwise, could materially adversely affect the Company's future plans and results.

3. New Products. The Company may be unable to produce timely, or at all, certain new planned confectionery products. The inability of the Company to produce planned confectionery products could materially adversely affect its future plans and results.

4. Returns. Approximately 85% of the Company's sales are made on a returnable basis. Although the Company maintains returns provisions, returns considerably in excess of the Company's provisions could materially adversely affect its future plans and results.

5. Suppliers. The Company has a single source of supply for most of its lollipop products. The loss of this supplier due to civil unrest or for any other reason could materially adversely affect the Company's future plans and results.

6. Customers. The Company has several large customers, some of which are serviced by single distributors. The loss of any of these customers or distributors could materially adversely affect the Company's future plans and results.

7. Internet. The Company is continuing to make a significant investment in an Internet strategy. There is no guarantee that the strategy will be successful. The failure of the Company's Internet business to achieve expected levels of success could materially adversely affect the Company's future plans and results.

8. International Political and Economic Risk. There is an increase in risk generally associated with operating outside of the U.S. Events such as civil unrest, currency devaluation, political upheaval and health-related issues could materially adversely affect the Company's future plans and results.

9. Legal Proceedings. See Item 3: Legal Proceedings for a discussion of legal matters that could materially adversely affect the Company's future plans and results.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION ABOUT INDUSTRY SEGMENTS, FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC OPERATIONS AND EXPORT SALES

The Company operates in two business segments. They are: (i) the marketing and distribution of confectionery products; (ii) the marketing and distribution of entertainment products. Segment and geographic area information contained in Note 14 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in the Annual Report is hereby incorporated by reference.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

In November 1998, the Company was named as a defendant in a purported class action commenced in the United States District Court for the Southern District of California (the "California Court") entitled Rodriguez, et. al. v. The Topps Company, Inc., No. CV 2121-B (AJB) (S.D. Cal.) (the "California Federal Action"). The California Federal Action alleged that the Company violated the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act ("RICO") and the California Unfair Business Practices Act, by its practice of selling sports and entertainment trading cards with randomly-inserted "insert" cards, allegedly in violation of state and federal anti-gambling laws. The California Federal Action sought treble damages and attorneys' fees on behalf of all individuals who purchased packs of cards at least in part to obtain an "insert" card over a four-year period. On January 22, 1999, plaintiffs moved to consolidate the California Federal Action with similar class actions pending against several of the Company's principal competitors and licensors in the California Court. On January 25, 1999, the Company moved to dismiss the complaint, or, alternatively, to transfer the California Federal Action to the Eastern District of New York or stay the California Federal Action pending the outcome of the Declaratory Judgment Action pending in the Eastern District of New York. By orders dated May 14, 1999, the California Court denied the Company's motions to dismiss or transfer the California Federal Action but granted the Company's motion to stay the California Federal Action pending the outcome of the Declaratory Judgment Action. The California Court also denied plaintiffs' motion to consolidate the California Federal Action with similar purported class actions. On April 18, 2000, the California Court entered an order requiring plaintiffs in the California Federal Action as well as in the other purported class actions to show cause why all such actions should not be dismissed. By order dated June 21, 2000, the California Court vacated its May 14, 2000 order denying the Company's motion to dismiss the Class, dismissed the RICO claim in the California Federal Action with prejudice and without leave to replead, and dismissed the pendent state law claims without prejudice. Plaintiffs filed a notice of appeal of the California Court's decision to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit on July 21, 2000. On August 20, 2002 the Ninth Circuit affirmed the dismissal of the RICO claims. Plaintiffs' time to seek review of the Ninth Circuit's decision has now expired, and the dismissal of the California Federal Action has now become final.

On August 21, 2000, the Company was named as a defendant in a purported class action commenced in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Alameda (the "California State Court") entitled Chaset, et al. v. The Upper Deck Company, et al., No. 830257-9 (the "California State Action"). The California Class Action alleged that the Company and other manufacturers and licensors of sports and entertainment trading cards committed unlawful, unfair and fraudulent business acts under the California Unfair Business Practices Act (CUBPA) and the California Consumer Legal Remedies Act (CLRA) by the practice of selling trading cards with randomly-inserted "insert" cards allegedly in violation of state and federal anti-gambling laws and state consumer laws.

On March 4, 2003, the parties reached a settlement of the California State Action in which the manufacturer defendants agreed to offer a No Purchase Necessary alternative by which consumers could have an opportunity of obtaining "insert" cards. In addition, the defendants collectively, without admitting liability, made a payment of approximately $6.0 million toward the cost and attorneys' fees incurred by plaintiffs. Topps' share of this payment was slightly in excess of $1.6 million.

In November 2000, the Commission of the European Communities began an investigation into whether Topps Europe's distribution arrangements for its licensed products comply with European law. The Commission is seeking information as to whether Topps Europe has engaged in the prevention of parallel trade between the member states of the European Union and/or European Economic Area, in infringement of Article 81 of the EC Treaty and/or Article 54 of the EEA Treaty. Topps Europe filed a response to the Commission's inquiry on November 29, 2000, and provided further information to the Commission on February 2, 2001, pursuant to its request. The Commission has continued its investigation by submitting new requests for documents and information in early 2003 and Topps Europe continues to fully cooperate. An adverse outcome in the Commission's findings could result in a substantial fine.

On February 17, 2000, Telepresence, Inc. sued Topps and nine other manufacturers of trading cards (the "Defendants") in the Federal District Court for the Central District of California for infringement of U.S. Patent No. 5,803,501 which issued on September 8, 1998 (the `501 Patent"). In its suit, Telepresence contended that the patent covers all types of "relic" cards that contain an authentic piece of equipment, i.e., a sporting implement or jersey. Topps had received an opinion of counsel that its relic cards did not infringe the `501 patent.

After initial discovery, on November 15, 2000 the Defendants jointly moved for summary judgment on the grounds that the named Plaintiff (Telepresence, Inc.) did not have standing to sue for infringement of the patent. The motion was granted and the Telepresence litigation was dismissed with prejudice on March 28, 2001.

After the dismissal, the `501 patent was assigned to a company called Media Technologies, Inc. Media Technologies is under the control of the same person (the inventor, Adrian Gluck) who had orchestrated the Telepresence action. On November 19, 2001, Media Technologies sued essentially the same group of defendants in the same court for infringement of the `501 patent. On March 13, 2002, the Defendants again moved for summary judgment based on the fact that the Telepresence action was dismissed with prejudice. That motion was granted by the District Court on April 22, 2002. Plaintiff (Media Technologies, Inc.) appealed on May 2, 2002. That appeal is presently pending before the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. Oral argument was held on April 9, 2003 and a decision is expected in the near future. If the dismissal is overturned, the parties will then engage in discovery on the substantive issues of the case. An adverse outcome in this litigation could result in a substantial liability for the Company.

The Company is a defendant in several other civil actions which are routine and incidental to its business. In management's opinion, after consultation with legal counsel, these other actions will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

EXHIBIT 10.1: EXECUTIVE OFFICERS' ANNUAL BONUS PLAN

A fiscal 2004 Executive Officers Incentive Bonus Plan has been established, with payments to be made after the close of fiscal 2004. Executive Officers become eligible for bonus payments only upon the Company achieving pre-established figures for Consolidated Operating Profit (income before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization) and/or the achievement of certain pre-determined strategic objectives. Assuming achievement of minimum target figures for Consolidated Operating Profit and/or strategic objectives in fiscal 2004, each Executive Officer will be eligible to receive 20% of their base salary as bonus, increasing to a maximum of 60% of base salary should Consolidated Operating Profit exceed minimum target figures and strategic objectives be met.
