(Hong Kong, March 29, 2005) CNOOC Limited (the "Company" or "CNOOC Ltd."; NYSE "CEO", SEHK "883") announced today its annual results for the 12 months ended December 31, 2004.

In the past year, the Company's net profit hit a historical high of Rmb 16.19 billion (USD 1.96 billion), a year-on-year increase of Rmb 4.65 billion (USD 562 million), or 40.3%. "We realized a record profit and achieved a remarkable growth in oil and gas production and reserves in 2004. The extraordinary profit is primarily due to high commodity prices and an increase in production volumes. Large reserve growth has proved our exploration programs to be successful. This will contribute to ensure the Company's growth in the future." Said Mr. Fu Chengyu, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer.

In 2004, six development projects commenced production successfully. The Company's exploration activities resulted in five discoveries and 14 appraisal successes offshore China, achieving a reserve replacement ratio of 173%. As of December 31, 2004, the Company's net proved reserves totaled approximately 2.2 billion BOE.

Despite operating expense increases due to higher raw material prices in 2004, the Company's effective cost management has allowed it to maintain its competitive cost structure amongst global peers.

"Our 2004 results reached a historical high. We believe that the good performance of our management will result in continuing support from our shareholders." Commented Mr. Zhou Shouwei, President of the Company.

The Board of Directors has approved a year-end dividend of HK$ 0.03 per share (US$ 0.38 per ADS) normal dividend and a HK$ 0.05 per share (US$ 0.64 per ADS) special dividend. Together with the interim dividend of HK$0.03 per share and the special interim dividend of HK$0.05 per share, we distributed a total of HK$ 0.16 per share to our shareholders during 2004.

"The payment of a dividend and a special dividend is evident of the Board's willingness to reward our shareholders. We will further develop the Company's ability of organic growth, maintain our low cost structure and execute the effective natural gas strategy, to lead the Company into an outstanding future," commented Mr. Yang Hua, Chief Financial Officer and Senior Vice President of the Company.
